By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate defense investigators said today an excess of gadgets and top level indecision have slowed down military aircraft production and prevented the development of adequate air defenses for the United States.

The highly critical report was the latest of a series from the Senate armed services preparedness subcommittee headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

Production Boss Proposed
In order to speed aircraft production to meet a possible Russian atomic attack, the report suggested appointment of a full-time production czar by the President and an overhauling of present basic defense legislation.

Some of the same recommendations were made last November by the same defense watchdog group but Chairman Johnson, in a separate statement, indicated they had not been carried out.

Johnson said the airpower buildup has been slowed down by a "capacity for indecision which at times has reached amazing levels."

Although the Defense Department did name a production czar, Johnson said, "he did not receive the necessary authority and eventually was reduced to the status of a job holder part-time." Aides of Johnson said this was Clay Bedford, industrial leader who was named special assistant to the secretary of defense.

Too Many Changes
The new report asked appointment of "a full-time production czar with powers to determine priorities, to freeze designs to the necessary extent, and to order quantity production initiated, so that our minimum air requirements are met as quickly as possible."

The report also called for a greater share of federal funds for air power and less for ground and sea arms.
The report was sharply critical

Sea Saves Man Doomed To Die

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Told he had only six months to live, retired British naval officer J. C. R. Griffin bought a boat a few weeks ago and went to sea to die.

He sailed back to port here yesterday and announced he was "completely cured."

Griffin, a former lieutenant commander, told reporters that doctors had given him only six months to live. He didn't disclose the nature of the disease.

For the first three months he did little but wait.

"Then," he said, "my wife and I agreed if I was under a death sentence, I might as well finish it at sea."

"We sold everything, bought a small ketch and set out to sea with our three daughters."

Griffin said their boat, the West Winds, struck a gale and broke down twice. Finally it went aground after a "nightmare voyage" along the West Coast of England.

"Now," said Griffin, "I am completely cured."

Griffin said he and his family plan to make the West Winds their home.

Brink's Guards Fired After $65,000 Lunch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Brink's guards were out of a job today because they had lunch together last Monday.

While they were eating in a hotel cafeteria their unguarded armored truck was rifled of $65,000 in cash. The money was recovered next day with the arrest of Ray E. Farmer, 26, a former Brink's employee who had a key to the truck.

Farmer, a bakery truck driver, is being held in $40,000 bail on grand larceny charges.

Communist Spy Ring Active In Montreal, Daily Gazette Says

MONTREAL, Canada (AP) — The Montreal Gazette claimed today a Communist spy ring of apparent refugees from Iron Curtain countries is operating in Montreal, gathering secret information on defense industries.

The newspaper's front-page story said government officials were giving serious consideration to the reported ring but first official comment denied knowledge of the report.

"It's the first I've heard of it," said Canadian Minister of Justice Stuart Garson. "I don't know whether it's true or not." The minister added, however, that if he did know, he would not disclose it.

The Gazette quoted two informants as saying Red agents in Montreal had asked them to transmit secret data on defense industries in the area. The newspaper said the names of the informants must be kept secret to protect relatives still behind the Iron Curtain.

Their story, as reported by the newspaper, said:
The spy ring was formed three years ago. Its main elements being Communist agents who posed as bona fide refugees coming through Germany.

On arrival in Canada, the agents settled near defense industries and received assignments from "keymen"—Russian-trained Communist party members in charge of cipher departments of consulates and other diplomatic establishments of Iron Curtain countries.

The ring in Montreal consisted of two immigrants from Czechoslovakia, one from Poland and one from the Ukraine.

British Make First Atom Bomb Test In Indian Ocean Isles

By VIV GOLDSMITH
PERTH, Australia (AP) — Eleven British and Australian naval vessels have assembled at the Monte Bello Islands for a test of Britain's first atomic weapon.

The test at the uninhabited Indian Ocean islands about 85 miles northeast of Onslow, a small West Australian port, is being kept secret.

But there are indications it will take place soon, possibly in September and in October. Experts say any tests must end before November, when the monsoon season starts.

Shipping Warned
The British Admiralty has warned shipping and aircraft to keep clear of an area of 23,500 square miles encircling the Monte Bello Islands.

It is thought that the British mission is to explode an atomic bomb, and possibly test other atomic weapons. It is known that Britain has been preparing for the tests for five years.

No foreign observers have been invited, but British parliamentary leaders may fly out to attend.

The full cost of the tests may exceed $22,000,000.

Efficiency Improved
The operation is under the command of the British Admiralty with Prime Minister Winston Churchill in overall command. The commander of the tests is Rear Adm. A. D. Torlesse.

British Ministry of Supply scientists will work under the direction of Dr. William G. Penney.

It has been claimed that Dr. Penney has designed a bomb with an entirely new detonator, making it more efficient than the American bomb.

There were reports of 200 atomic scientists being aboard the flag-ship Comanza when it sailed from Portsmouth. The atomic weapon was also said to have been in the ship.

Flying Saucers Just Imagination, Says Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Army Frank Pace says he thinks flying saucers "are products of the imagination."

"I think we have enough real problems to worry about without conjuring up imaginary ones," Pace said on an NBC television program last night.

Mayor Is Champion

Outbreak Of Polio Exceeds 1949 Mark

(By The Associated Press)
An outbreak of polio has stricken more persons this year in Michigan than in the peak year of 1949. Ernest L. Bates, of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, cited State Health Department figures of 1,369 cases so far this season as against 1,024 at this time three years ago.

Detroit was among the hardest-hit cities. James Monroe, 17, who died in Herman Kiefer Hospital yesterday, was the 21st victim of the disease in Wayne County. In 1949, the worst previous season, Wayne County had 17 polio deaths.

Republican Legislators Call Gov. Williams Liar

Gov. Stevenson And Eisenhower Come To Grips

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP) — The major maneuvers in Gov. Adlai Stevenson's campaign strategy were becoming clearer today as he swept through the New York area in his battle for the presidency.

In effect, he has now come to grips with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his Republican opponent.

Both candidates are in New York. Each has delivered a major speech—stating basics—before the American Legion Convention. They spoke on different days, but before the same group of listeners. For each man, this was the true beginning of his campaign.

Claims GOP Split
In the Legion speech, and in another delivered last night at a Democratic rally near Asbury Park, N. J., Stevenson struck out at Eisenhower in these areas:

1. "I am not in the delicate position of another candidate for high office, who faces the ticklish problem of whether to swallow his principles and endorse all the candidates running on the same ticket with him."
2. "The Republicans are split wide open on foreign policy. . . . Some of us are reluctant to admit that peace cannot be won by some clever diplomatic maneuver nor by propaganda."

3. "The people of this country are better off than they or any other people have ever been."
4. "On domestic policy, only now are they (the Republicans) slowly and reluctantly accepting the ideas successfully sponsored by the Democratic party years ago. . . . It looks more and more to me as though they are going to

Candidate Calls For End Of War

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — Vincent Hallinan, presidential candidate of the Progressive party, opened his campaign in Southern California last night with a demand for an immediate cease-fire in Korea.

The San Francisco attorney addressed a crowd in Culver City Stadium which police estimated at more than 9,000. The rally was orderly but afterward a group of teenagers hooted and jeered the crowd as it left the stadium.

Hallinan said he sent messages a few days ago to candidates of the major parties, Republican Dwight Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson, asking them to urge President Truman to seek an immediate cease-fire order in Korea. Hallinan said he has not received replies from either candidate.

Two Parties To Spend Millions Over Radio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans and Democrats plan to spend more than $4 million dollars to put their national candidates on radio and television.

Robert Humphreys, publicity director of the Republican National Committee, said yesterday up to two million dollars will be spent by the GOP.

The Democratic National Committee has contracted for more than 1½ million dollars.

Surprising Labor Vote Predicted For Eisenhower

By JAMES DEVLIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower goes into a round of political conferences today with a promise that he can count on a "surprising" labor vote in his bid for the presidency.

The Republican nominee also drew the support of Roger W. Straus, co-chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Word that Eisenhower would get substantial labor backing came yesterday from Richard J. Gray, of Albany, N. Y., president of the three-million-member AFL Building and Construction Trades Department and a long-time Democrat.

Dixie Rule Foreseen
"For 20 years we've been with the Democrats and they think they've got us in their vest pocket," Gray told newsmen after conferring with the general.

He emphasized that he was speaking for himself, not for his union, but he said he knew that eight or 10 other top union officials would support Eisenhower. He did not give their names.

And he added that a "surprising number" of rank-and-file unionists would vote Republican.

The building trades chief said "a lot of labor people feel the country is coming to be ruled by a minority — the Southern Democrats."

He said he told Eisenhower that "we don't have a United States Department of Labor any more. It is just a statistical bureau."

Fifteen or 20 agencies are involved in labor affairs and it leads to confusion, Gray said.

Platform Disregarded
Asked how he felt the Republican platform on labor compared

Legion Elects World War 2 Chieftain Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Legion elects its national commander today, with political battle lines drawn between two major contenders.

Recognized front-runners for the post are Lewis K. Gough, 44-year-old former Navy commander from Pasadena, Calif., and Walter E. Alessandrini, 39, former Marine captain from Philadelphia, both World War II veterans.

Convention Winds Up
The elections in Madison Square Garden this afternoon mark the conclusion of the four-day, 34th annual convention. The Legion Auxiliary, the women's organization, also concludes its sessions.

Three others have been mentioned as possible candidates for national commander, but observers at national headquarters said these men were seeking only to place their names before the convention preliminary to candidacies next year.

The three men mentioned in that connection were Arthur J. Connell of Middletown, Conn., Seaborn P. Collins of Las Cruces, N. M., and Walter J. Fenlon of Chicago. One source said Connell definitely has withdrawn from this year's race.

Lawmakers Not Taking Blame For Prison Riot

LANSING (AP) — Outraged that they should be blamed for the Southern Michigan Prison riots, seven Republican legislators yesterday flatly called Governor Williams a liar.

Charging him with using "the technique of the big lie," the legislators said the governor's prediction of more riots "proves to us that he is still giving the state a 'steak and ice cream' prison administration."

Whines Over Failure
In a speech in Jackson Tuesday, Williams blamed the April riots on niggardly appropriations by the Republican Legislature. He added that unless adequate appropriations are made, there would be new riots.

In a statement issued following a conference, the lawmakers said Williams "was warned after the first riot that his mishandling of the situation could lead to another, and a second riot did occur."

Instead of providing constructive leadership, they said, Williams "whines like a spoiled little boy." Williams was accused of campaigning in 1948 on a promise to restore non-political prison administration and then failing to carry out the promise.

Goon Leader Pardoned
The legislators recalled that Williams had pardoned a Benton Harbor labor organizer, whom they called "a goon squad leader," and they repeated earlier charges that

Supply Centers Bombed In Korea

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. S. Air Force bombers rained new destruction on Communist supply centers near Pyongyang, the capital of North Korea, Wednesday night after planes from three U. S. Navy carriers—including the newly repaired Boxer—bombed Red power plants in the Northwest.

The fury of the aerial strikes was in sharp contrast to light action along the 155-mile battlefront. The U. S. Eighth Army's evening tactical summary Thursday was the shortest of the war—21 words:

"U. N. patrols engaged enemy units up to a platoon in strength, as action continued light along the Eighth Army front."

Governor Says Texas May Put Eisenhower On Democratic Ticket

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texans had a hint from their governor today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's name might be placed on the state Democratic party's ticket as a presidential nominee.

Gov. Allan Shivers indicated such a possibility in a radio address last night in which he said tideland oil was not the only issue on which he based a decision not to vote personally for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee.

Trumanism Attacked
Shivers repeated previous attacks on what he called "Trumanism." He said he thought Stevenson "a better man than Truman" and would if elected give a better administration.

"Yet his views on Texas tidelands are an indication that he . . . would continue to hold the views and countenance the policies that Truman and people around Truman have established," Shivers said.

"Oscar Ewing (federal social security administrator) and his views on socialized medicine are rolled up in the same package, along with a continuation of a stalemate foreign policy, a continuation of the highest spending and highest taxation in the history of this nation and a continuation of central government powers concentrated in Washington," Shivers said.

Traditions Changed
"Those who have seized the great Democratic party," the governor continued, "have misused it, absorbed it and changed its history, its policies and its traditions."

He asked Texans to tell him what they want to do as citizens. "How do you want to vote?" he asked.

State Atty. Gen. Price Daniel, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senate to succeed Sen. Tom Connally, is among many Texas Democrats who have recently written Shivers asking for a double set of democratic presidential electors. One group would be those pledged to Stevenson.

Shivers predicted the State Democratic Convention in Amarillo Sept. 9 would "make such arrangements."

Japanese Lower House Dissolved

TOKYO (AP) — In a lightning move to save his political strength, pro-U. S. Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida today forced dissolution of the lower house of the Japanese Diet (Parliament) and set the first post-occupation general election for Oct. 1.

The date is at least a month or 45 days before rivals felt they would be ready to defeat the diminutive, 74-year-old Premier.

A dramatic noontime government announcement said the lower house would be dissolved at once. Then the speaker read a rescript from Emperor Hirohito dissolving the house.

That automatically shut down the upper chamber — the House of Councillors — unless an emergency arises. It is only advisory.

The Emperor's rescript was countersigned by Yoshida, who must have worked fast and secretly to catch his opposition off guard. It takes a day or more to prepare an imperial rescript.

Six Still Missing From B-17 Crew Shot Down By Mistake

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A search continued today for six missing B-17 crew members whose plane was shot down by mistake into the Gulf of Mexico by one of the Air Force's new F86 jet fighters.

Two members of the crew, Sgt. Charles D. Jones of Meridian, Miss., and Airman 2C Peter D. Rosing of Ingleside, Ill., were fished from stormy gulf waters after floating 24 hours on a life raft.

2 City Cases Of Polio Reported

Two additional polio cases, the victims an Escanaba boy and girl, were reported today after the children were taken to the infantile paralysis clinic in Marquette's St. Luke's hospital.

Both cases were diagnosed as mild attacks with no evidence of paralysis.

The children: Sharon Bryers, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bryers, 824 Second Ave. S., who is undergoing treatment in the children's clinic after clinical tests Wednesday afternoon established the illness as polio; and Richard Gustafson, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson, 1524 N. 18th St., who was released from St. Luke's with a very slight case to be treated at his home here. He showed only a mild stiffness of the neck and a fever before he was taken for consultation with Marquette physicians.

The children bring to nine the number of infantile paralysis cases reported in the county. They are the second and third Escanaba victims. Four of the nine are from the Gladstone area.

One Delta county polio fatality occurred last week when seven-year-old Roger Belanger of Gladstone died in St. Luke's of bulbar paralysis.

A Brampton victim, Marvin Sheffer, 18, was reported yesterday to be improved and is to be released in about one week. He has some involvement of the neck and one arm although no paralysis is evident.

Stephenson History Instructor Granted Study Fellowship

Robert Voelker, history instructor at the Stephenson high school, has been awarded a fellowship which will entitle him to one year of study and travel anywhere in the world. Mr. Voelker will be paid his full contractual salary plus all reasonable expenses and tuition for one year. The fellowship is worth approximately $5,000 and will be forthcoming from the Fund for Advancement of Education of New York City.

The fellowship is designed to discover new methods of training for teachers.

Mr. Voelker has been granted a Sabbatical Leave for one year from the board of education of the Stephenson Public Schools.

The selection of the instructor from the Stephenson high school staff was made by a local committee with membership as follows: P. R. Carroll, Herbert Corey, Mrs. Robert Diehm, Mrs. Frank Salp, Mrs. Lenora Lienna, and Joseph B. Gucky.

Husband Takes Off With Baby After Wife Misses Two Shots

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A wealthy television manufacturer took a plane for an undisclosed town in Iowa with his 20-month-old baby yesterday after his blonde wife took two shots at him and missed.

Police quoted Mrs. Howard R. Vermillion, 29, as saying she intended only to frighten her husband. Vermillion, 45, told officers she shouted: "If you come into the house I'm going to kill you," when he appeared at the door of their home.

She was treated at an emergency hospital for leg abrasions which she said she received in a struggle with Vermillion for possession of her pistol. She was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, but was released later when Vermillion did not appear to sign a complaint.

All-Time High Mark Predicted In Traffic Deaths Over Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—The coming three-day Labor Day week end probably will bring an all-time high in traffic deaths for that holiday, the National Safety Council said today.

The council estimated that this year's toll may reach 480. Previous high was 461 last year. "Forty million cars will be on the move this week end," Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said in a statement. "The summer's last holiday, plus the back-to-school rush from vacation spots, is expected to bring a new record for travel over a Labor Day week end."

Educational System Of Germany Molded On Democracy Lines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Germany's educational system, which served Adolf Hitler as a tool of tyranny, has been revolutionized in the West zone and is now making steady progress toward democracy, the State Department reported today.

"Educators have had to climb out of their ivory tower and come down to earth," a department survey said. "German youth today is growing up in peace and neighborliness with democratic ideas and practices and with healthy interest in the people and problems outside its own small world," the survey added.

Decline Noted In Lake Levels

Water levels on four of the five Great Lakes, including Lake Michigan, declined slightly in the first half of August, indicating the 1952 peak has been reached, it is reported by the U. S. Lake Survey, Corps of Engineers, Detroit.

For the period July 16-30 the elevation in feet on Lakes Michigan-Huron was 582.75. The water level had declined to 582.70 (or 5 one-hundredths of a foot) for the period Aug. 1-15.

Water elevations to Aug. 15, however, were still nearly two feet (1.98 feet) below the all-time high record of June 1886.

This year the seasonal peaks for Lakes Erie and Ontario were reached in May and June. Lakes Michigan and Huron are believed to have reached their seasonal peak in July, with the slight recession noted in the first half of August. Lake Superior continued to rise during the first half of August.

"High precipitation over the Lake Superior and Lake Michigan-Huron drainage basins during July and the first part of August increases the net supplies of water to those lakes to the extent that Michigan-Huron levels may remain near the seasonal peak longer than is customary and recession from the peak may be delayed and be slower than in the average year," reported Col. William Harris of the U. S. Lakes Survey.

Even the slight decline noted earlier this month will be welcomed by port cities and owners of developed shore property. Extensive damage has been caused in some areas because of the high water and wave action.

Big Labor Day Parade Planned

Labor Day will be celebrated by the Escanaba Trades & Labor Council with a big parade in the morning on Ludington St. and an afternoon program at Pioneer Trail Park. It was announced today by Joseph Berube, chairman of the day.

All business activity will cease for the day and public buildings and private offices will be closed on Monday.

The Labor Day parade will start at 10 a. m. at Ludington and Stephenson with the line of march east on Ludington. The Escanaba Municipal Band, Escanaba and Gladstone High School Bands and possibly the Bark River-Harris High School band will play.

A large number of floats will be entered in the parade and cup awards will be presented to the top three. The best decorated bicycle entered by boys and girls will each receive a prize.

All of the local unions will be represented in the parade. The Trades & Labor Council will enter a large float on which will ride the Pony League team which it sponsors. The Boy Scouts will form a marching unit in the parade.

The afternoon program will start at 1 p. m. at Pioneer Trail Park, where the principal speaker of the afternoon will be Prentiss M. Brown Jr., St. Ignace, Democratic candidate for congress. He will be introduced by Einar E. Erlandsen of Escanaba, chairman of the Trades & Labor Council speaker's program.

A variety of events for young and old is scheduled at the park in the afternoon. There will not be a ball game.

Traunik Student Gets Scholarship

CHATHAM—Donald W. Haapala, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Haapala of Traunik, has been awarded an Elmer Gideon scholarship for the coming year.

Donald, who will be a junior this fall at the University of Michigan, is a graduate of Rock River High School. He is enrolled in the College of Business Administration.

The scholarship awarded him brings to 31 the total of Elmer Gideon scholarships awarded for the coming school year. The scholarship was established in 1951 in memory of a Michigan student, Elmer Gideon, who died during World War II. It carries a cash stipend, the amount to be determined by a committee on university scholarships. A maximum of $1,000 is possible although the average is $500. It is distributed on the basis of need. Beginning students must have graduated from high school in the upper third of the class. For students already enrolled a B average must be maintained.

Other qualifications are: strong moral character and good citizenship, scholastic ability and intellectual capacity and achievement, physical vigor and ability, evidence of the capacity for leadership and success.

Escanaba Third High In U. P. In July Bank Debits

Escanaba was third highest among the cities of the Upper Peninsula in volume of bank debits in the month of July, according to a report of the Ninth Federal Reserve District.

City banks here showed debits of $8,991,000 that month. In the same month last year, Escanaba's debits were $8,753,000.

Only the cities of Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie ranked above Escanaba, with $12,248,000 and $9,588,000 respectively.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and represent payments for goods, services, debts and transfers of funds.

They also include debits against demand and time accounts of individuals, firms, corporations, and government accounts, payments from trust accounts and certificates of deposits actually paid.

The debits of other U. P. cities' banks (figures are given in thousands of dollars):

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Indiana University, planning an exhibit on the development of the piano at the Indiana State Fair, was temporarily stymied by lack of a dulcimer player.

But the show was ready today. Robert G. Spinner, Elk Rapids, Mich., qualified for the job by playing one of his 16 dulcimers—over the telephone—for V. A. Smith, chief of staff for I. U. exhibits. The master of the ancient instrument is a 19-year-old University of Illinois student.

Audio-Visual Aids To Education Explained

Audio-visual education and its place in the elementary and high school levels was the topic under discussion this morning at the pre-school teacher's conference at the Junior High School by Donald Ickes, Escanaba co-ordinator of audio-visual education and Robert Leestma, assistant director of audio-visual education at the University of Michigan.

The basic reasons for the audio-visual idea is to stimulate interest in the minds of the children on a variety of ideas, to communicate new ideas, and to help the children to retain material more readily.

The simpler the tools the better the plan works, Leestma emphasized. Blackboards can be used in far more than the old methods quizzes and memos. An easily constructed puzzleboard uses the blackboard principle on a fancier scale. Board material that is painted with blackboard paint is divided into two sections. Questions that are tacked onto the board go on one side, the answers on the other. When the right answer is matched with the question, a bell rings or there is a bright light flashed on the board. The lights and bells are constructed by wiring on the back and can be done in manual training classes.

Avoid Confusion

An electric question and answer board was also shown with the right question and answer paired bringing a flash of light.

When the regular blackboard is to be used, the idea now is to see to it that the material is shown to illustrate a point simply. Too much writing and drawing serves to confuse the student.

Drawings on the blackboard can contribute much to the class discussions if they are not overdone.

Felt boards are coming into greater popularity. These are just a large board that is covered with felt. The pictorial material used on the board has to be made of felt or flannel material and this sticks to the board without any other kind of adherence needed.

Picture Cut-Outs

Figures for the board can be cut by the children or the teacher to illustrate stories, arithmetic or word concepts. A film was shown to illustrate the many uses of the board. Pictures cut out of books and magazines can be backed with felt and used on the board. Basketball and football coaches can use them for diagramming plays because the figures can be easily moved around.

Louis Diedrich, teacher at the Webster school, showed his felt board. It took him little less than an evening to cover the board. Figures for the board can be cut out of old felt hats. Any number of color contrasts can be used.

Free Material

Free material given by manufacturers is another way to combine the audio and visual methods. Many companies send out free material upon request concerning the history of their field or their product, the emphasis on the product played down. Some companies will supply movies.

Lantern slides are a very good means of teaching by sight. The slides can be made by the pupils and the teachers.

Films are a good utilization of all materials. But, Leestma pointed out, the teachers should first know what he is trying to put across by the use of the film, what correlating material to use, and how to familiarize himself with the material. The discussion type film is a most beneficial means of drawing out the individuals in a classroom.

Paper mache work can be effectively done in classes. The only materials needed are paste, newspapers, paper toweling and wire. The figures are painted and can be used to point up the project under discussion.

These methods of audio-visual help can be obtained from the director in this area, Donald Ickes, the Escanaba coordinator.

This evening, the teachers and their wives or husbands will be the dinner guests of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at the Escanaba Country Club. William Warmington of the Chamber and Charles Folio, president of the Escanaba Board of Education will extend greetings. Chester Kleeman will act as toastmaster. Highlighted will be a talk by Dr. Guy Hill on "Keeping Alive as Long as Long as You Live."

Teen-Age Boys Confess Thefts

Pilfering from parked cars and the theft of articles estimated to value about $80 was climaxed last night for a group of teen-age Escanaba boys with apprehension by police after they broke the window of a car and took a $5 bill from the seat.

Safety Director Glen Leonard today said juvenile court will be petitioned to deal with four boys 14 to 16 years of age, and that a warrant will be requested charging a fifth boy, 17, with receiving stolen property.

All of the boys were released to the custody of their parents after being questioned by police.

The number of cars entered by the boys is not definitely known, but numerous articles—many of which had not previously been reported stolen—were recovered at the home of one boy and are now at the police station.

The reported thefts occurred within the past two weeks. They included thefts from cars owned by Barbara Tushak, 1013 Ninth Ave. S.; William Hahn, Wells; Delbert Johnson, 1435 Sheridan; and Mrs. Clara Karas Somers, 1204 Lake Shore Drive.

The boys were apprehended last night after they broke a window in Mrs. Somers' locked car parked in the 100 block on South Eighth St. and took a $5 bill from the seat where it had accidentally fallen.

Recovered by police from the home of one of the juveniles were number of stolen articles including a suitcase filled with clothing, which had been taken from an auto parked at the fair grounds. Other articles included a camera, sweaters, jackets, thermos bottle, golf club and cigarettes.

Scientists Underpaid In Britain; Atomic Progress Held Back

LONDON (AP) — Britain's atomic arms program is being held up because the government's atomic scientists don't make enough money an all-party parliamentary committee reported today. Qualified scientists prefer to work for private industry at higher wages.

The report of the Select Committee on Estimates urged the government to raise salaries and improve working conditions for its atomic experts.

A top government scientist can get 2,000 pounds ($5,600) a year—good pay compared with average British salaries but small in comparison with the 3,000 pounds ($8,400) or more that industrial companies offer ordinary research men.

Michigan, Heavy Taxpayer, Needs District U. S. Revenue Office

THE Bureau of Internal Revenue has proposed under a reorganization plan submitted to Congress to divide the country into 21 districts. Michigan was to be one of the districts.

But now there is a proposal by the Treasury Department to revise the reorganization plan and to merge Ohio and Michigan and eliminate the District Commissioner in Detroit and locate headquarters in Cleveland.

The inconvenience to Michigan people is obvious. It is detrimental to Michigan interest and the merger would undoubtedly create inefficiency and resulting extravagance.

Total revenue collections in Michigan outrank all but two states—New York and Illinois.

Michigan taxpayers, who file nearly three million returns and pay approximately one-twelfth of the total collections in the United States, cannot be serviced as efficiently and economically with a District Commissioner located in another state.

Michigan, which ranks third in internal revenue collections, sixth in number of tax returns filed, and seventh in population, warrants a District Commissioner.

Certainly it warrants consideration ahead of other areas which are being created into separate districts—although they have less revenue, less returns and less population.

One of the areas, for example, includes the states of Missouri and Iowa. These two states combined have approximately the same population as Michigan and about the same number of returns filed as in Michigan—while their revenue collections are less than half of those for Michigan.

The proposal to combine Michigan with Ohio is, therefore, unjustified and discriminatory. It would create a district with a load larger than any of the others already proposed.

New York state and Illinois, both comparable to Michigan in population and number of returns filed, are to have their own District Commissioners.

Michigan should have and needs a District Commissioner headquarters. If it has none, it will also will have no appellate division, and appeals will then be made first to Ohio, then to Washington.

Certainly for Northern Michigan taxpayers it is far distant to Detroit, and Cleveland is still farther away. Perhaps a letter to your congressman and to John B. Dunlap, commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., would help Michigan keep the district headquarters it needs.

Other Editorial Comments

TRUMAN IS STEVENSON'S PROBLEM

(Green Bay Press Gazette)

The Illinois governor was kept so completely under wraps while being "drafted" for the Democratic presidential nomination that the country knows very little about him and therefore is more than ordinarily interested in watching the President try to take over the Stevenson campaign.

Certainly Mr. Stevenson cannot be unaware of the indisputable evidence furnished from the primaries held in this country during the last six months in which the electorate seemed only to want to know who Truman was supporting in order to trample upon him. Even as Governor Stevenson was traveling to Washington the people of Arkansas were booing out their Democratic governor, McMath, who might have won had been able to prevent the President from publicly announcing the White House's support.

How far should gratitude be permitted to go in a case like this? No one knows any better than Stevenson that Truman manipulated his nomination. And no one should know any better than Mr. Stevenson that affectionate gestures from the White House are fatal today in the public eye.

HIGHER AUTO INSURANCE

(Marquette Eagle Star)

Announcement that higher automobile liability insurance rates would go into effect this week in Wisconsin seemed inevitable, since that has been the trend over the country. The steady increase in traffic accidents can be blamed.

Last year 18,958 men, women and children were killed or injured in this state as compared with 17,925 during 1950, an increase of six per cent. In most cases, insurance was involved in one respect or another. Even where there were no injuries, a substantial bill of expense was incurred because it costs a lot more to have a damaged car repaired today than it did a few years ago.

Revision of rates applies to basic coverage, and that means protection up to $5,000 for bodily injury to one person, up to $10,000 to two or more persons resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000 for property damage.

Modern eating habits are partly responsible for crime, says a doctor. The crime being what you have to pay for the food?

Merry-Go-Round

While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Len Schmitt, attorney, Merrill, Wisconsin.)

By LEN SCHMITT

MERRILL, Wis.—When I decided to make the run against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in the Wisconsin Republican primary election, several of my friends in Northern Wisconsin asked me why. They were as much appalled by McCarthy's record and by what has come to be called McCarthyism as I was, but their attitude seemed to be that I was foolish to disrupt my rather comfortable life to enter a campaign against such a ruthless adversary as McCarthy. On the surface, this attitude made some sense.

During the years, I have built up a substantial law practice in Merrill, Wis., my home town. I have a comfortable life, including a fine summer home on one of Wisconsin's beautiful lakes near Hayward. And on top of that, this particular year I was in a position to take it easy as far as my law practice was concerned. But I could not let those factors influence me, because this fight against McCarthy and what he stands for goes far deeper than the physical comfort of a middle-aged attorney named Len Schmitt.

Under normal circumstances in Wisconsin, McCarthy wouldn't have a chance for re-election. His personal record is such that Wisconsin voters, reared in the tradition of the honesty and integrity of old Bob La Follette, would repudiate him utterly if it weren't for another factor on which he is relying and which must be fought to the limit.

Consider the senator's record. In 1943, when he was in military service, he made a $40,000 killing in the stock market, but he reported to the state tax authorities that he had received no income from Wisconsin and thus believed he was not a resident of the state. He did not mention the $40,000 stock market profit. This did not come to light until some years later and McCarthy did not get away with this maneuver, but it is worth noting that the next year he considered himself so much a resident of Wisconsin that he ran for the office of U. S. senator. He was defeated.

Later, his record as a Circuit Court judge came to public attention, including such items as the granting of "quickie" divorces to clients living outside his circuit and represented by a Milwaukee law firm favorable to him, and the destruction of a court record in a case which went to the Supreme Court. The fact that he ran for the U. S. Senate while still a Circuit Court judge, despite a constitutional edict to the contrary, also was brought out and McCarthy was severely censured by the State Supreme Court.

As a senator, McCarthy accepted $10,000 from the defunct Lustron Housing Corporation when he was serving on a committee investigating the RFC which held Lustron notes to the extent of $37,000,000. At that time Lustron was trying to get additional loans from the RFC. McCarthy accepted the $10,000 for a booklet on housing which consisted chiefly of Federal Housing regulations.

SHADY FINANCIAL DEALS
McCarthy's tangled personal finances came to light, including a $72,000 loan by the Appleton State Bank which was secured, at one point, by a $20,000 note signed by a widely known Washington sugar lobbyist. McCarthy in the years 1946 to 1949, had an income of $66,000, but he paid no state income tax, claiming either interest or stock losses as deductions to offset the tax. In one year he claimed interest payments of $15,000 which if capitalized at four per cent would mean an indebtedness of $375,000.

McCarthy attempted to make political capital by distorting his war record. He claimed he carried ten pounds of shrapnel in his body when, in fact, he never was wounded. He called himself "tail gunner Joe" when, in fact, he served as an intelligence officer. He claimed he enlisted as a private when, in fact, he shopped around for a commission.

Such a record would mean political sudden death in Wisconsin under normal circumstances, but McCarthy is trying to cover it up with his shotgun charges of Communism in government and elsewhere. Here we come to the factor I mentioned earlier. McCarthy has resorted to the technique used by the propagandists of the dictators in recent years—in Germany, Italy and Russia.

He is trying to create fear and hysteria in a people rightfully concerned about the danger of Communism to our way of life. He is attempting to create the impression that anyone who opposes McCarthy must be a Communist or a fellow traveler. His charges are so outrageous (witness the accusations against Gen. George Marshall) that people are inclined to say that the claims must be true—the Goebbels technique. McCarthy makes so many charges that few citizens can keep abreast and so they do not examine each charge carefully to find the fraud.

Paris Flocks To See Painted Memoires Of Kees van Dongen

By JOHN RODERICK

PARIS—Kees van Dongen, 75-year-old Dutch painter who romped to fame in Paris' roaring Montmartre artists' colony in the early years of the century, has painted his memoirs and Parisians have flocked to see them.

His autobiography on canvas—the result of a year of intensive work—opened here in the Paul Petrides gallery. His 30 paintings in the exhibit were of beaches, race tracks and yacht clubs of the elegant resort town of Deauville, the northern French countryside, and a backward glance at some of the women he has known.

His models were the bathers and baskers on last summer's sands. But instead of painting them as they were, he drew from a long, long memory to clothe them in the crinoline and the cloche-hats of his hey-day.

The result is a strange mixture of modern art with old-fashioned subjects, an artistic marriage nonetheless so successful that all the canvases were sold at fabulous prices long before they went on exhibit.

Lives Among His Memories

In his studio on the Rue de Courcelles, this spade-bearded Dutch expatriate lives in a world curiously remote from Paris of 1952. From the walls peer down the images of a past whose escapades and accomplishments already are being written into the history books of modern art.

There are the early canvases of a 20-year-old art student, who came wide-eyed to an already changing city in 1897 and, penniless, let himself sink into the current of the straggly bohemianism of the time. In this period are the midnights, the show horses and acrobats of the Cirque Medrano, the shy little girls in ruffles who by night danced in the chorus at the Folies Bergeres, and, in the place of honor, a youthful Mistinguette.

"Kiki," as Van Dongen was called by his artists' colony friends, met the ageless beauty in 1900 and did her picture with the late Max Dearly, doing an Apache dance, her head thrown back, breasts bare and eyes sultry.

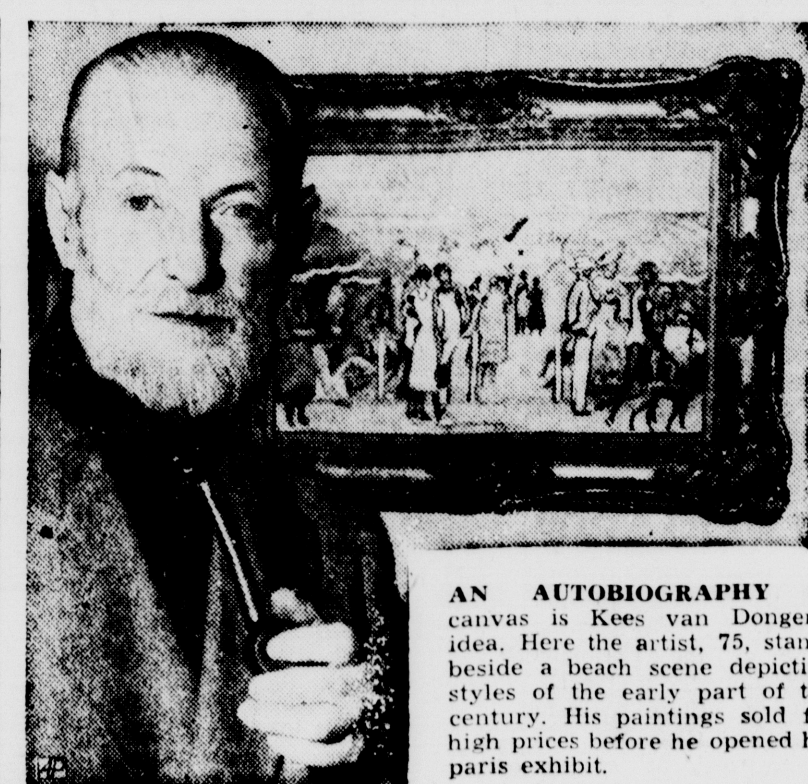

Van Dongen came to the ferment of late 19th century Paris from the sleepy Dutch town of Delfshaven where he was born. He had shown a talent for drawing by making a painting of a horse on a sheet which his mother considered a waste of good linen.

"I had to make a living," he said. "I let my beard grow because it cost less than going to a barber shop. I was so poor that I sold newspapers, opened the doors of carriages for great ladies, and peddled sketches."

He became a skill for a traveling carnival and took fake falls in a fake wrestling match. It was during this time that he met Anita, a fulsome brunette who became his mistress.

"She was a belly dancer—and we lived together," he said. "We were all very young."

They went to live in the "Bateau Lavoir" (Laundry Boat) in the Montmartre and met Picasso. The Bateau was a bare, barracks-like building where a dozen or so youths scraped out a living, painting. It was a motley collection, "Kiki" recalled, a number of them failures, some later suicides. Only Picasso ever became really on canvas is Kees van Dongen's idea. Here the artist, 75, stands beside a beach scene depicting styles of the early part of the century. His paintings sold for high prices before he opened his paris exhibit.

Picasso and Matisse
"Kiki" believes Picasso's leftist tendencies took root in those days of poverty.

"Picasso was always sad and melancholic," he recalled. "His had been a miserable life. Mine had been, too, but I was more of a savage. I ran around in my bare feet, picked up a wife, ran around to the newspapers, did everything to keep alive without becoming depressed."

"At that time," he said, "Picasso was like a pregnant woman. He lay in his bed day in and day out, waiting for something to come along."

After World War I, "Kiki" turned to portrait painting. His noted sitters included Anatole France, whom he described as "almost too brilliant", Maurice Chevalier, the Aga Khan, the Countess de Noailles, and a number of American boulevardiers and men about town.

Pities the Poor Rich

"Kiki" said his painter friends often became angry at him over his apparent desertion of the ranks to paint the high world society. But his portraits often were savage caricatures and many of his sitters refused to accept the canvases when they were finished.

"After all," said "Kiki", "one has to treat the rich kindly, just as one would a dog. They are miserable, bored and stupid, too."

Hemingway's New Novel Soon To Reach Readers

By W. G. ROGERS

ERNEST HEMINGWAY'S 13th book, a short novel called "The Old Man and the Sea," is published this week by a magazine in full, and will come out in book form week after next. It was almost 30 years ago that Hemingway's first book, "Three Stories and Ten Poems," appeared; the first work to bring him fame was "The Sun Also Rises," in 1926; and "Farewell to Arms," in 1929, is generally regarded as our best

World War I novel. Born in Oak Park, Ill., in 1898, several times married, a traveler, hunter and sportsman, he was one of numerous American writers to heed the counsel of Gertrude Stein back in the Paris of the 1920s. More than anyone else, probably he is responsible for the flavor and rhythm of contemporary American speech, at least as it is recorded in fiction, and his influence on droves of other writers has been incalculable. This new novel follows by about a year "Across the River and Into the Trees," which got a mixed critical reception; and the last novel before that was "For Whom the Bell Tolls," published in 1940.

Malicious (muh-LISH-us), from malice (MAL-iss), from Latin malus, bad, carries much the same degree of emotion as rancorous, but goes further in its spitefulness. When you feel rancorous you feel deeply moved toward revenge, but may not carry that spirit out by any act. But one who is malicious is vindictive; that is, he seeks active revenge. He is not likely to rest content with an equal injury, but will deliberately plan a revenge that will hurt his enemy more deeply than he himself was hurt.

The return of evil for evil is best expressed by the word retaliation, which has exactly that meaning. It is from Latin retalia, to repay evil for evil. Its adjective is retaliatory (re-TAL-i-uh-TOH-ri). Retaliatory measures are likely to be less severe than malicious revenge; more controlled and judicious, seeking no more than equal injury.

Enmity or anger that is implacable (im-PLAY-kuh-bl) is eternally relentless, stony-hearted and unforgiving. The word is derived from Latin in-, not, and placare, appease, placate. Enmity that is implacable may never bother to seek revenge. It is usually cold and inactive but, when the spirit of vengeance is aroused, the revenge is remorseless and unyielding.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE GOSPEL SHIP—A name recalled by some older residents of Delta county is that of Capt. Henry Bundy, known in an earlier day to every small port on the Great Lakes.

For Capt. Bundy was master of the Gospel-ship "Glad Tidings" and held the title of "General Missionary to the Northwest Lakes."

Capt. Bundy's name first came to my attention about six years ago when the Delta County Historical Society held a summer picnic meeting at beautiful Sack Bay on the Garden Peninsula.

In the recollections of older residents of that area were stories relating to the arrival of the Gospel-ship, of religious services conducted by Capt. Bundy in local homes for those of the community who wished to attend.

GREAT LAKES CIRCUIT—Miss Adelle Elliot of Sack Bay recalled that Capt. Bundy would come striding ashore from his schooner, followed by one of the crew carrying a melodeon on his back. The melodeon provided accompaniment for the singing of the hymns.

Capt. Bundy came naturally by the ways of the sea, for he was English born and in his lifetime had sailed the oceans in the days when the sun never set on the British empire.

John T. Nevill of St. Ignace, whose research in Great Lakes lore has reconstructed the fascinating story of Capt. Bundy, describes him as a big and bewhiskered.

The rough and ready appearances of Capt. Bundy did not belie his character, for he had since the age of 10 fought his way in the world of iron men on wooden ships, Nevill reports.

THE NON-CONFORMIST—Born in London in 1826, young Bundy was "bound to the sea" in 1836 by his parents, who considered him a problem child, and he set sail for Bombay on the schooner "Abel Gowar."

Hardship, flogging and rebellion followed and the boy deserted the "Gowar" at the first port. Later he was to jump ship in many strange ports. He behaved well for two years in the British Navy, then went back into the rough and tumble life of the merchant marine.

In 1855 he walked ashore when his boat docked in New York—and never returned to it.

A few days later he was in Buffalo, then in Chicago. Henry Bundy had found new seas to sail—the fresh water seas of the Great Lakes. Here sailors were better fed, there was steady work and promotion.

RISE TO CAPTAIN—For more than ten years Bundy sailed the five Great Lakes, learning every channel, visiting every port.

When winter clamped an icy hand across the lakes, halting traffic, Bundy went to night school. He learned to read and write. He saved his money, married, and became the father of a son and two daughters.

The wild roving days were ended. There was only one more chapter to be written in the life of a man whose name became a legend around the lakes.

CAPTAIN MISSIONARY—About 1870 Capt. Bundy purchased a vessel of his own, the tiny schooner "Potomac."

It was not long after that Bundy met a man who was to wield a powerful influence over his future life. That man was Dwight Lyman Moody, one of America's greatest evangelists.

From his conversations with Moody, Capt. Bundy was inspired to launch the first of his "Gospel ship" missions. For a score of years his boats, all named "Glad Tidings," were to bring the Gospel message to folks in smaller communities around the lakes.

Capt. Bundy, once the bad boy of the seven seas, had found smooth sailing. At his death he was to be memorialized in growing legend as the "circuit rider" of the Great Lakes.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

There are times in the life of each of us when all is not sweetness and light, when we've had all we can take. Our spirits clamor for revenge; we feel hateful and mean; we want to "take it out" on someone. That is, we feel vengeful, spiteful, rancorous.

Rancorous is a good word to have on tap for such occasions. The very sound of the word — RANG-kur-us — expression one's bitter feelings. (And, incidentally, it comes from the same source as rancid, the Latin rancore, to be sour.) It expresses the kind of bitterness that we feel toward an enemy who has done us deep injury, upon whom we seek revenge.

Malicious (muh-LISH-us), from malice (MAL-iss), from Latin malus, bad, carries much the same degree of emotion as rancorous, but goes further in its spitefulness. When you feel rancorous you feel deeply moved toward revenge, but may not carry that spirit out by any act. But one who is malicious is vindictive; that is, he seeks active revenge. He is not likely to rest content with an equal injury, but will deliberately plan a revenge that will hurt his enemy more deeply than he himself was hurt.

Escanaba Fortunate

In Paterick Appointment

THE appointment of Joseph Paterick of Green Bay as superintendent of the Escanaba gas and steam utilities fills one of the vacancies on the city's top management team with the important electric utility management still to be filled.

Escanaba has been fortunate in securing Mr. Paterick for the gas and steam utility job. He has an excellent background in his field and, of course, his work is well known here because he is a former resident of Escanaba and of Manistiquie.

It is well to point out, however, that Escanaba cannot expect to be always so fortunate in filling its important jobs as it has been in the Paterick appointment. Mr. Paterick happens to be a native of this area who, like most of the people of the Upper Peninsula, prefers to work in this area even at a reduced salary. Mr. Paterick is coming to Escanaba to take this job at less money—substantially less—than he was earning in the job that is leaving at Green Bay.

Escanaba has lost some men of higher caliber simply because salary schedules are not competitive with salary schedules paid elsewhere for similar abilities. It is one of the problems that the city council will have to give serious consideration to in the future to prevent periodic recurrences of this sad situation.

The Doctor Says ...

Birds With Parrot Fever Virus Can Spread It To Human Beings

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Mrs. G. G. B. asks whether there is such a thing as parakeet fever. She says she has heard that if one handles a parakeet too much, one will get this fever.

The condition about which Mrs. B. inquires is usually known as psittacosis, or parrot fever. It is a disease caused by a virus, (which is a small living thing too small to see under the microscope) and can be caught only from certain kinds of birds.

In other words, a person will not catch the disease, from handling a healthy parakeet, but only from one which is infected.

This disease involves birds such as parrots primarily, but it can be spread to human beings. When human beings become infected, the symptoms usually consist of a high fever and changes in the lungs similar to those of pneumonia.

In 1932, 76 cases of psittacosis were reported in the United States and seven people died from the disease. During 1933, only 15 cases and four deaths were reported. The rapid improvement came from a quarantine which was imposed by the federal government on the shipping of parrots and similar birds between the states.

Since that time our public health services have been engaged in a continuous battle to eliminate psittacosis in susceptible birds. Infected birds have been destroyed and their importation has been prohibited.

There is far less likelihood of contracting psittacosis now that the number of infected birds has been so strictly controlled. Those who work with the virus in the laboratory, however, are likely to become infected and occasional infected birds are still found.

Psittacosis in human beings is something like virus or atypical pneumonia. Fortunately there are laboratory tests available which can be used to make the diagnosis definite.

KEEP PETS HEALTHY

So far as treatment is concerned, either serum taken from a victim of the disease who is convalescing or a goat serum which has been produced, seems to shorten the course of human psittacosis. Probably more important are the antibiotic relatives of penicillin, from several of which good results in treatment have been reported.

If psittacosis had not been attacked promptly by preventive measures and if the custom of keeping love birds, parrots or parakeets in the home were more common than it is, the problem would have been much worse. Even today, one who keeps birds of this kind should make sure that their pets are healthy.

British Make Great Movies

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—You may knock the British for a great many things, but generally speaking when they sit down to whomp up a movie it comes out adult and worthy of watching by other than people who think that Martin and Lewis are hysterical and that Abbott and Costello constitute subtlety.

The most fascinating suspenser since the early Alfred Hitchcock efforts is a thing called "Clouded Yellow," which had me off the seat and sore in need of plasma most of the way, and was gently humorous as only the British can do it and tender in spots, besides. We may as well give up on mixtures of humor and terror and wry underplaying, here. The cousins across the way have got it cornered, and if they ran their empire as well as they make an occasional film we would not still be lending them money.

I thought it impossible for anybody, too, to connect a believable, African picture that actually dealt with game and terrain and problems, but the British have done it again with a new one called "The Ivory Hunters," a simple story devoid of blood and thunder and tumultuous heroines whose hair remains unmussed throughout elephant charges and cannibal attacks.

Long Standing Line
The people who thrive on contrived situations won't like it, and the people who admire painted donkeys, got up as zebras, making phony charges, as in "King Solomon's Mines," won't like it. But people who like color that isn't glary and the best animal photography I can remember will see it twice or more. The thing opened the other day with no heraldry to speak of. The standing line at the box office was a block long.

My interest in the film was sort of personal, since one of the professional hunters who kept the beasts from eating the talent is a friend of mine. Young Tony Dyer of Kenya was one of the double-rifle toters who stood guard over the photographers and the actors while they agitated the fauna on a game reserve for enough days to make all the animals angry. Protection of photographers is the toughest kind of body-guarding for a white hunter, because you have to keep the creatures in a state of perpetual commotion while the guy with the camera gets his light right and his lenses adjusted.

Poor old Dyer and Mr. Bunny Somebody, whose name I forget, had a six-day chore of keeping a herd of elephants stirred up to riotous wrath. There were over 200 elephants in the herd, and the photography was close, and Tony told me that he went through the last couple of days with a bottle of brandy in one hand and the 470 rigby double in the other.

Shot One Elephant

"I have never been so bloody nervous in my life," said the weedy protector of the poor, whose native name is Tall, Thin, and Useless. "We are shooting this picture in a reserve, and they ask naughty questions of you if you kill animals in a reserve, and between agitating the elephants and teasing the rhinos I wound up a nervous wreck in the bloom of youth."

Dyer had to shoot one elephant, an infuriated old one-tusked bull who broke off from the herd and lit out after Tony and his camera-grinding friend. The elephant picked up 100 yards on the pair as they took off over the sands, and when Dyer finally turned to shoot him, the old bull's trunk was grasping at Dyer.

Tall, Thin and Useless stopped short, spun, and shot the elephant through the eye, or some such. When they measured the distance, the dead elephant's last track was nine yards away from where Dyer stood. The photographer, I might say, kept taking pictures throughout the crisis. Then they both went back to camp and shook and shivered.

I digressed for a few hundred words, but what I was going to say was that it is possible to make a movie without really soiling the intelligence of people who know something of what they're seeing. "Ivory Hunters" was a delight in that respect, and I'm sure glad that big bull didn't trample old Tony. He has had enough trouble from Buffaloes and Leopards, already. He's weary of being trod on.

Kaiser-Frazer To Recapitalize

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A loan agreement permitting investment of $25,000,000 in the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. or any corporation with which K-F is merged was announced here by the Henry J. Kaiser Co.

The Kaiser firm said it had completed a long-term $22,000,000 loan with a group of banks and would put up the other $3,000,000 itself. The company said in a statement:

"Various plans for recapitalizing Kaiser-Frazer Corp. have been explored over the past year, including discussion of consolidation with other businesses."

"Contingent upon the acquiescence and approval of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation there would be a substantial amount of new capital available for investment in Kaiser-Frazer Corp. and these alternative plans will now be reviewed and reconsidered."

As a result of the new financing, the Kaiser company said it would guarantee $20,000,000 of an outstanding Kaiser-Frazer loan, with the RFC. The company said it would put up government bonds as guaranty.

The Henry J. Kaiser Co. is owned by Kaiser, his family, the Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation and a group of top executives in the firm. It holds controlling interest in the Kaiser Steel Corp., a large part of the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. and the Permanente Cement Co. and 9 1/2 per cent of the stock of the Kaiser originally branched into shipbuilding and cement, steel, aluminum and automobile manufacturing.

Nosi Campaign Staged To Elect Chile President

By MARY EVE AMBOR
SANTIAGO, Chile, (P) — Ear-shattering music and eye-wrenching wall signs are the chief outward signs of the Chilean presidential campaign now going on. The voting to elect one of four candidates, will take place Sept. 4.

From strategic corners, loudspeakers blare out a mixture of tangos, sambas and rumbas, intermingled with praise for one or another of the men who want to succeed President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla. Automobiles outfitted with loudspeakers dash around roaring out bits of advice about which candidate to elect.

Citizens Complain
Some householders have complained to police about the racket but have gotten little action because the government is bent on maintaining absolute freedom of speech throughout the campaign. Police seem to feel that the louder the noise, the more liberty.

Accompanying the sound is the handwriting on the walls. It's tar or pitch or paint or printed posters. Smart garden walls in exclusive residential districts and the downtown walls of buildings are plastered with signs advertising the virtues of candidates—or describing opponents in picturesque and impolite terms.

Must Clean Up
The clutter is annoying to many whose walls are painted because Chilean law says housefronts must be clean on Sept. 18, Chile's Independence Day.

The four candidates are lawyer Pedro Enrique Alfonso, 49, the government candidate; retired Gen. Carlos Ibanez, 74, former president; Sen. Arturo Matte, 59, Right-wing party candidate; Dr. Salvador Allende, 44, vice president of the senate and candidate of the Left, including the outlawed Communist party.

All of them are striving hard to win the newly enfranchised feminine vote. Women are voting for the first time in Chile at this election. Eligible to vote are 328,404 women, 776,625 men.

Women Big Factor
The candidates include prominent Chilean women in their campaign entourages and Gen. Ibanez and Allende have newly organized women's parties of various types supporting them.

The rise of women in Chilean politics was marked last month

Fisherman Yields His Boat To Tarpon

FERNANDINA BEACH, Fla. (P) — Man and fish changed places in a recent incident along Florida's Buccaneer Trail.

A giant silver king tarpon hooked by W. J. Richards, Jacksonville, fan-tailed up out of the water and landed squarely in another fisherman's small boat.

The other man—whose name Richards didn't get—surrendered the dry boat to the fish and promptly took to the ocean. Richards got the fish—and 85-pounder.

when Gonzalez Videla appointed Mrs. Adriana Olguin de Balta to his cabinet as minister of justice. She was the first woman cabinet member in Chile's history.

The platforms of all four candidates are based on economics. In different language they say: "This inflation is a bad and dangerous thing, and it's hurting your pocketbook. I'll do something about it, if you make me president."

Defiant Reds Riot At Koje Isle Camp; 4 Killed, 64 Injured

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SEOUL, Korea (P)—Defiant Red war prisoners tested the nerves of U. N. guards in a series of incidents this month and guards "met every challenge" with maximum force, killing four and injuring 64, the U. S. Eighth Army said today.

Most of the casualties occurred at the main U. N. war prisoner camp on Koje Island off South Korea. It was on Koje last June 10 that American paratroopers broke Red rule over prison pens in a bloody battle in which one American and 40 prisoners were killed and 140 prisoners wounded.

Making More Trouble
An Eighth Army spokesman summed up disturbances in July and August this way:

"In the last few weeks, prisoners of war and civilian internees in their new 500-men compounds have tried out the nerves of United Nations personnel, making trouble to see what force would be used against them. On every occasion we have used maximum force. We have met every challenge."

The Army began yesterday to disclose the prisoners incidents in piecemeal announcements after a Communist broadcast charged the U. N. with mistreating prisoners in August a year ago.

An Army spokesman said there had been no intent to withhold information and added that the delay was caused by a reorganization of the camp command.

Gen. Nam Il, senior Communist negotiator at the Panmunjom truce talks, made propaganda capital of the POW troubles at today's truce session. He accused the U. N. of "shameless and cowardly slaughter" of captured Reds.

Nam Il's casualty figures—one killed and 54 injured—were lower than those announced by the Eighth Army.

Free-For-All Fights
The prisoner disorders occurred on two islands and in camps on the South Korea mainland. Some incidents were put down without injury. Some prisoners were hurt in free-for-all fights among the prison inmates.

Fighting among prisoners has been common as Communist and anti-Communist factions clash—apparently for power within the stockades.

Two prisoners were killed in escape attempts from mainland stockades. A third prisoner was killed when he stoned a guard at Hospital Camp No. 2 at Pusan.

The fourth POW met death Aug. 23 when an Allied infantry company barged into Koje's Compound No. 10 and forcibly halted a mass singing demonstration. Twelve other prisoners were hurt in the fight.

Of the 64 prisoners injured, 42 of them suffered gunshot wounds. The biggest single injury toll of the month occurred Aug. 11 when guards halted rioting, rock-throwing Reds on Koje with 80 tear gas grenades and 12 rounds of birdshot from riot guns. Thirty-eight Reds were peppered by the shot.

Most significant of the Army's reports today was that two riots occurred on Koje Aug. 19. About 200 prisoners began a brawl among themselves. Troops, using tear gas grenades, entered the compound and restored order.

Ten prisoners were hurt in the prisoner fight and one POW was shot and wounded in the thigh when he attempted to hit a U. N. officer with a club.

On the same day two prisoners were shot and wounded when they picked up and hurled at guards two of 25 gas grenades which the guards had thrown to quell rioting.

There were two incidents in July. Twenty-five Reds were beaten—none seriously—in a fight with other prisoners at Nonsan camp on the mainland on July 30. On July 20 a POW was wounded in the hip in an escape attempt from Koje.

Three prisoners have escaped on Koje, the Eighth Army said.

There were two incidents on Cheju Island, off South Korea, where several thousand prisoners were taken after the breakup of Koje's defiant compounds last June.

New Triangle-Shaped British Jet Called World's Best Fighter

LONDON (P) — Britain says she has the "most effective fighter plane in the world," a triangle-shaped jet called the Gloster Javelin.

An announcement authorized yesterday by the Royal Air Force said the weird-looking plane is faster than sound — 660 miles per hour at sea level — and is "more maneuverable and docile at lower speeds than any fighter since the biplane era."

The javelin is the world's first twin-engine fighter of the delta design, in which the swept-back wings form a triangle virtually the length of the plane's body. It is 57 feet long and has a wingspan of 52 feet. The tip of its tail stands 17 feet from the ground.

Joel McCrea Rich But Doesn't Act It

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Some joker tacked on Joel McCrea's dressing room a sign reading "Millionaire's Row."

Everyone on the movie set got a laugh out of it, especially McCrea. It's possible that he is a millionaire, since he has been making good money for 20 years in the movies and is reputed to be foxxy with his dough.

But one thing is certain: He doesn't act like a millionaire. Nor has he brought up his two boys to act like a rich man's sons. In fact, they have been so shielded from the limelight that only this week did McCrea allow the first picture of one of them to be published. The reason for the photograph was that the oldest boy, Jody, 17, is appearing with his pop in "Lone Hand."

"That's true," Joel said. "There haven't been any pictures of the boys published since they were babies. The only photos we have taken of them were for the family album. My wife (actress Frances Dee) had a theory about that."

Good Job As Parents

"She objected to children being used in publicity at an age when they were not able to make their own decisions about it. That wasn't being fair to them, she reasoned. She also objected to children being forced to live in the shadow of their parents' fame."

"And she was absolutely right. I have seen it happen to too many kids of famous people. They wind up with a complex about being second best and make messes of their lives. I wanted my boys to stand on their own two feet."

The McCreas seem to have done a good job along those lines on Jody and Adel, who is 16. They purposely kept the boys out of the Beverly Hills social whirl, where they would be competing with other film children. The McCrea sons have spent most of their lives on the McCrea ranch, learning the cattle business from the ground up.

Acting Bug Bites

"The boys have even said they don't want me to leave any money to them," Joel added. "They tell me I can give it all to an orphanage I have been helping over the years. At any rate, I haven't set up any trust funds for them to get at certain ages. I think that would be a bad thing for a kid."

Now Jody has been bitten by the acting bug. After years of indifference about his father's profession, he suddenly has expressed a desire to get into it. Joel gave him a chance to break into the game in "Lone Hand."

"I gave the kid a part and let him double in some riding scenes," remarked director George Sherman. "He's plenty good."

The proud father agrees, and has

Expert Says Chronic Alcoholics Should Be Kept On State Farms

TORONTO — An American educator says chronic alcoholics should be confined to state farms where they could earn their keep and not be a burden on society as a whole.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president of the University of Illinois and an authority on drunkenness, told an intercollegiate conference on alcoholism under way here that chronic alcoholism is a "serious disease which cannot be cured."

The only way to manage and prevent it, he asserted, is "total abstinence."

Ivy said placing such sufferers on institutional farms where they could produce enough for their own maintenance "would clean up about 60 per cent of the skid rows of the United States."

Miami Home Ruined By Mercy Killing

MIAMI, Fla. — Mrs. John Moskal had little time for grief. First, she had to find a lawyer to defend her 57-year-old husband, with whom she had lived happily for 33 years, against a murder charge.

Then there were funeral arrangements to be made for their invalid daughter Adela, whose 18 years of suffering came to an end Monday when her father plunged a butcher knife into her heart.

The attorney, Mark O'Quinn, got Moskal released from jail yesterday in $5,000 bond, and then Mrs. Moskal had to hurry home to their

'Voters Voice' Speeds Opinion To Congressmen

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y.—A commuter has come up with a comparatively painless, completely non-partisan way to write your congressman.

William Cabell, a New York attorney who—like about a million other people—spends considerable time each day riding to and from his work, took to worrying a few months ago about his opinions and their lack of proper outlet.

"I'd get all steamed up in transit about UMT, or the Clark appointment to the Vatican, or about televising public hearings," he explained, "and decide I'd write a letter to my Congressman. But by the time I got to the office or home, something else would come along and I'd never get around to it."

He was convinced, however, that there should be some way for elected representatives to have an idea about what people in their districts were thinking about issues.

He was, and is, an independent in politics and never has done anything more politically significant than polls-watching. But now he finds himself editor and publisher of a small, highly non-profit experiment called the "Voters Voice".

Importance of Being Earnest

"Most people just don't take time and trouble to write those letters," he said. "I don't care what people think about things, but I do think they should let what they think be known. Most Congressmen get mail from pressure groups. If a Congressman wants to get a general reaction, he has to depend on polls."

Cabell got his brother, R. A. Cabell, and a neighbor, C. L. Baldwin, Jr., interested in the idea as a public service. Working week-ends and evenings, the three young men put together their first newsletter containing briefed-down descriptions of pending federal and state legislation of general interest. William Cabell watched the newspapers for cues and then researched the subject in tones like the Congressional Record. Each item contains short, non-editorial summaries of pro and con arguments on the subject.

The last page of each monthly "Voters Voice" is a series of pre-addressed communications to Congressmen, Senators and Assemblymen stating, for example, "I favor/oppose House Bill 5715 to increase G.I.'s pay because....." Then follows two blank lines for reasons, and room for the citizen's name and address.

"All you have to do," Cabell said, "is fill in your own reasons, stick the note in an envelope and send it off."

Samples Bring Response

Last month they sent complimentary samples to a few thousand persons living in their neighborhood in northern Westchester County. A year's subscription costs $1 (and doesn't cover costs). They received better than 10 per cent subscription returns.

"A lot of people are still sus-

Steel Strike Didn't Build Up Backlog Of New Car Orders

By DAVID WILKIE
Associated Press Auto Editor

DETROIT (AP)—Contrary to earlier expectations the steel strike did not build up a big backlog of unsatisfied demand for new automobiles.

This is indicated in virtually all the recent surveys of the car market. Curtailed factory output and the normal midsummer demand did clear out the new car stocks of most dealers, but there was no unseasonal run on the salesrooms and no abnormal accumulation of new car orders.

The showing of the surveys very rightly disturbs many of the new car dealers. Many of them lost money during the first quarter of the year, when new car sales totaled 919,715 units. They did not recapture all their losses in the second quarter when sales moved up to slightly more than 1,220,000.

Most surveys showed that only a few dealers believed the steel strike had created a backlog of unsatisfied demand. Generally, the retailers were pessimistic about sales prospects for the remainder of the year. Those who believed sales would match output for the rest of the year qualified the view with the statement that sales might have to be "forced" or that it could be done if production and prices do not go too high.

So there is more than a possibility that the final quarter of the year will show some dealers operating in the red again.

An interesting disclosure in the trade surveys was the rather widespread admission of retailers that even in July buyers were trying to drive hard bargains in top trade-in allowances. This is more than ordinarily significant coming at the top of the industry's peak sales period.

It is true that at the present moment dealers generally do not have high inventories of new cars. However, the factories are going to pour them out at top quota levels between now and the year end, if materials are available.

That means a selling job for the industry's merchandising division. A selling job means the acceptance of a large volume of trade-in cars at allowances that still leave a margin of profit for the dealer.

Mount Athos is a monastic republic in Greece. It is 40 miles long and five miles wide, and no woman or animal of female sex has been permitted to enter its boundaries in more than 900 years.

Schaffer

SCHAFER—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butryn and sons Jerry and Jimmy returned from a week's visit with relatives in Chicago.

A/36 Lawrence Richer of Ocoz AFB spent the weekend with his parents.

School Opens Tuesday

Classes at the Schaffer School will be resumed Tuesday, Sept. 2, at the usual time. Hot lunch will be served the first day.

Sgt. Fish Named To Rifle Team

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich.—Sgt. First Class Charles J. Fish, Company C, Escanaba, was selected as a member of the 107th Engineer Battalion rifle team at Camp Grayling, Michigan National Guard summer camp.

Fish and four others will compete for honors in competition covering the 46th Infantry Division.

Also selected with Fish are Master Sergeant Garfield Kintgen, of Headquarters and Service Company, Ishpeming; Cpl. Lawrence Brusso, Company A, Calumet; Private David S. Fine, Company B, Marquette; Cpl. William F. Mueller, Company D, Manistiquette. These men were selected from their units for their previous high scoring in battalion and company level firing.

Fish and the other four will have to compete against the finest shots in the 46th Division. Competition will include firing from 200, 300 and 600 yard distances with a regulation caliber .30 M-1 rifle.

The winning five man team will represent the 46th Infantry Division, Michigan's own National Guard unit, in the National Rifle Competition at Fort Benning, Ga. The winning team will fly from Camp Grayling early next week.

France Improves Arms Production

PARIS (AP)—France's Defense Minister Rene Pleven says he thinks the French armament industry can turn out main items on its 1952 program even if the United States doesn't give all the help the French would like.

The French and Americans have been negotiating for some weeks over how much arms the U. S. program of offshore aid will take from French industry for European defense forces. France has said an order for 625 million dollars worth in the next three years is required to keep its industry operating at the necessary level. The United States says Congress won't let it make commitments that far ahead and 185 million dollars worth for this year is all it can promise.

Pleven told a closed session of the National Assembly's Defense Committee last night that the French government would maintain its orders from French plants for the most important military items through administrative economies and diversion of funds from less essential items of the 1952 budget.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. ## Customers' Corner

Labor of Love

This week-end, all the folks at A&P join with customers and other friends in celebrating Labor Day.

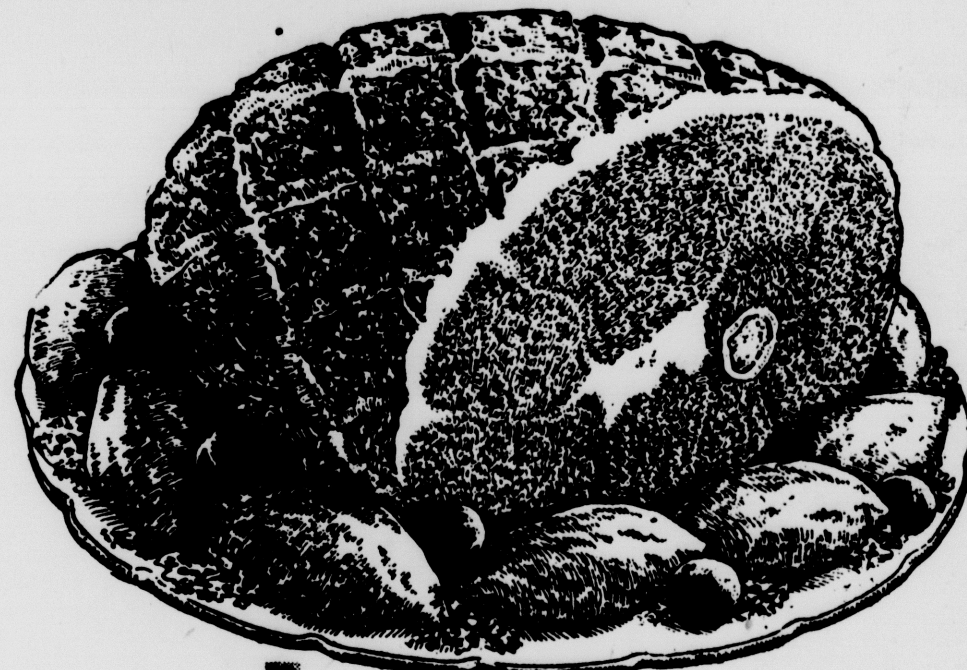

And on this day, we're particularly proud to express our appreciation to our employees. We're proud of their loyalty... proud of the way they work to help you, and to help us.

Naturally, they're busier than usual right before this holiday when folks are buying for the long week-end, but you'll find our clerks just as efficient, just as friendly and honestly helpful. When they give you that "something extra" in attention and courtesy, it's because they regard A&P customers as neighbors and friends... and their service becomes a real "labor of love"!

Explorers Come Out Alive From Mystery Valley In Alberta

EDMONTON, Alta. (P)—Three men have come out of Nahanni Valley alive to prove that legends of death stalking those who brave that far north wilderness have some foundation, but that the dangers are not from supernatural forces.

The three explorers who barely won out in their hazardous trek through the mysterious valley are R. M. Shamp, young chemical engineer from Washington, D. C.; writer—photographer Norman Thomas of Albuquerque, N. M.; and botanist Howie Martin of Yale University.

Mistakes May Be Fatal

"If trappers and prospectors have failed to return from the valley it's because they were not as fortunate as we were," says Shamp. "There is good reason for their failure to return. It's the kind of country where one mistake can mean your life."

They financed the trip by a commission from the U. S. Defense Department to test a new food ration pack, and an assignment to write scientific reports on some of their findings.

The trio motored from Washington to Watson Lake in the Yukon, where northern aviator C. C. F. Dalziel picked them up for the 150-mile flight to their base camp at Glacier Lake, some 180 miles upstream from the mouth of the Nahanni River. The river is in the northwest territories and about 700 miles northwest of Edmonton.

All Rifles Disabled

They started from Glacier Lake because much of the Nahanni Valley had been covered by prospectors and trappers, and they wanted to go through a region less likely to have been seen previously.

When they got going on foot, each carried a 75-pound pack with a rifle and other equipment. Shamp cracked a knee-cap and fractured a shoulder-blade soon after the start, but continued with the others.

A few days later one rifle was damaged beyond repair on rocks, and the two others were put out of commission by continual dampness leaving the explorers without arms to kill game for food. On the whole trek they saw the sun only three days.

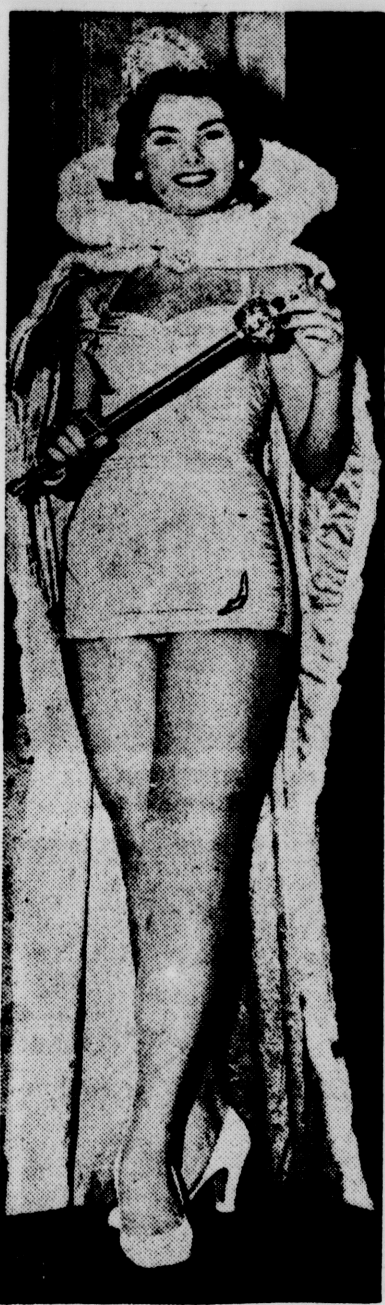

In 25 days they walked 150 miles through tortuous country, but were only 50 miles from their starting point. With rations getting short, they decided to return to camp as fast as possible. On the way back they built rafts on three occasions, suffered a spill in glacier-fed waters and once were trapped for two hours in a whirlpool.

All Lose Weight

They got back to base with three meat bars, one pair of shoes among the three, one sleeping bag, a camera and film. The rest of their equipment had been ruined by rain or lost in raft upsets. All had lost a lot of weight—Shamp about 40 pounds, and the others about 20 pounds each.

From the base camp they flew to Watson Lake. Shamp went to Anchorage, Alaska, for hospital treatment before returning to Edmonton.

He doesn't believe the legend about a tropical valley in the Nahanni, but says there are some hot springs around which summer growth is luxuriant. They also found some mineral deposits, but not enough to bother about.

HOPPE UP—Nineteen-year-old old Jo Hoppe, in regal regalia, smiles happily after being crowned "Miss Chicago." She will compete in the annual Atlantic City beauty pageant.

Brotherhood Becomes Communistic Term, Church Synod Warns

PASADENA, Calif. (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's reference to "man's brotherhood" struck fire at the 15th General Synod of the Bible Presbyterian Church.

The synod telegraphed Eisenhower that the phrase is being used by Communists to "condition our people for the so-called brotherhood and solidarity of a socialist order."

The action was proposed by Dr. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N.J., president of the International Council of Christian Churches.

Eisenhower in his speech Monday to the American Legion convention in New York said that to combat communism Americans must "preach and practice the truly revolutionary values of man's dignity, man's freedom, man's brotherhood under the fatherhood of God."

U. S. Aids Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (P)—The Jordanian government and the United States Point Four Administration have signed an agreement covering the development of Jordan's water resources, irrigation and pastures.

The United States will contribute $459,523 and Jordan $107,265.

Everything Goes Wrong Some Days, Even In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ever have one of those days when everything goes wrong?

I had one this week. I should have realized the portent when the fan belt on the family transport snapped on the way to the office. Lots of other things happened, too.

I toured a couple of studios. Nothing. Roy Rogers had gone for the day, and Trigger didn't want to be quoted. Marilyn Monroe was reported out playing catch with Joe DiMaggio. By some fancy footwork, I was able to elude Shelley Winters.

But I had an ace in the hole. It was a telegram which claimed to be a "passport to heaven." Some department store was tossing "the most unique fantastic men's fashion show ever presented."

So I trundled to the swank eatery where the event was taking place. The fashion show was a dud. It turned out to be a promotion for new kinds of material. You know—those suits you can put in the washer and ties that shed gravy like a duck drips water.

Three fellows from a model agency displayed all these items, from shorts to overcoats, while a man from the store extolled their virtues.

Then John Agar and Marshall Thompson, who were described as movie stars, modeled suits of some amazing new fibre. They didn't take them off and put them in the washer, as the announcer suggested they could. But they turned around and showed that the coats were slit up the back.

I guess the coat slit has returned. That's about the only significance I could get out of the whole affair.

Korean Truce Talks Recessed To Sept. 4

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations and Communist negotiators have called their fifth straight recess in the Korean truce talks after a Red propaganda blast over shooting of Communist prisoners in U. N. POW camps.

The truce teams talked only 33 minutes in a new Red-built conference hut at Panmunjom.

Neither side budged on the prisoner exchange deadlock, final issue blocking an armistice.

At the suggestion of Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief U. N. delegate, they recessed until Sept. 4.

Rapid River

RAPID RIVER—The Rapid River Volunteer Firemen will meet tonight at the first hall at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Glasenapp and children Barbara and Mary, Milwaukee, spent three days last week with Mrs. William Vitzke.

Mr. and Mrs. George Norton and children Etta and Ned, Minneapolis, are visiting with Mrs. Norton's mother, Mrs. Beda Proehl, and with her sister Mrs. Victor Brison, Limestone. Mrs. Norton is the former Louisa Proehl.

Mrs. Chuck Parrett left Sunday morning for Duluth where she will visit for several days with her husband.

Word has been received from John Grandchamp Jr., that he has received a promotion to Airman 1/c. He is stationed at Tokyo, Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Marquette, spent the weekend with John Grandchamp father of Mrs. Mrs. Miller. While here they visited the U. P. State Fair on Saturday.

Cornell 4-H Girls At State Show

CORNELL — Four Cornell 4-H girls left yesterday morning to attend the State 4-H Show at Michigan State College, East Lansing. Janice McFadden and Janita Carlson won top honors in clothing judging at Camp Shaw last month. Everell and Geraldine Miron, also won a trip award by giving a winning demonstration on home pasteurization of milk. Everell will compete for state honors in the achievement booth contest, and was the recipient of the Upper Peninsula Michigan Farmer Award, as an outstanding member in 4-H work.

A Bachelor Girl Is Better Off Than An Unhappy Wife!

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Most people associate love with youth. Youthful love is intense and passionate, but so are all youthful emotions. This young woman wonders if she is in love, just because she does not feel the passion of youth:

(Q) "I am 34 and dating a man of 33. Out of the six months we have gone steady, I have loved him only three months. He hasn't done anything to make me change, but I just don't love him any more. He is sweet, has a wonderful position, and I hear that he still loves me. We were to be married this fall and my friends all tell me that love will come after our marriage. Should I marry him without love? I know it is hard for a woman of my age to find a man. Am I too old to fall in love?"

(A) No one is too old to fall in love, but you must realize that the type of love you experience changes as you grow older. The passionate love of youth disappears as people approach middle age. If you are still looking for that kind of love, you are very likely to find it out of your reach now.

As for your friends' advice, I do not agree with them. Some people do fall in love after marriage but most come to hate the person they have married. It is not fair to you or to the man who loves you to take such a gamble.

So long as you are unsure of your feelings give up your plans to marry him this fall. Tell him frankly how you feel and let him decide whether this will merely postpone your marriage or be a complete break.

It is hard for a woman of your age to find a man who is in a position to marry. This is the "in-between age" for marriage and eligible men are scarce. That, however, does not justify your dashing into a marriage with a man you do not love. There's no disgrace to being a "bachelor girl." It's preferable to being an unhappy, disgruntled, and disillusioned wife.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the national's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

A Bachelor Girl Is Better Off Than An Unhappy Wife!

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Most people associate love with youth. Youthful love is intense and passionate, but so are all youthful emotions. This young woman wonders if she is in love, just because she does not feel the passion of youth:

(Q) "I am 34 and dating a man of 33. Out of the six months we have gone steady, I have loved him only three months. He hasn't done anything to make me change, but I just don't love him any more. He is sweet, has a wonderful position, and I hear that he still loves me. We were to be married this fall and my friends all tell me that love will come after our marriage. Should I marry him without love? I know it is hard for a woman of my age to find a man. Am I too old to fall in love?"

(A) No one is too old to fall in love, but you must realize that the type of love you experience changes as you grow older. The passionate love of youth disappears as people approach middle age. If you are still looking for that kind of love, you are very likely to find it out of your reach now.

As for your friends' advice, I do not agree with them. Some people do fall in love after marriage but most come to hate the person they have married. It is not fair to you or to the man who loves you to take such a gamble.

So long as you are unsure of your feelings give up your plans to marry him this fall. Tell him frankly how you feel and let him decide whether this will merely postpone your marriage or be a complete break.

It is hard for a woman of your age to find a man who is in a position to marry. This is the "in-between age" for marriage and eligible men are scarce. That, however, does not justify your dashing into a marriage with a man you do not love. There's no disgrace to being a "bachelor girl." It's preferable to being an unhappy, disgruntled, and disillusioned wife.

Ten-Day State Fair Opens Up

DETROIT (AP)—Officials put in the last hard licks today for tomorrow's gala opening of the 103rd annual Michigan state fair.

Billed as "the nation's oldest," the 10-day exposition opens with familiar parade and fanfare at 11 a. m.

Governor Williams will cut a ribbon in formal opening ceremonies at the fair grounds.

Cowboys and cowgirls and the Rosebush quadruplets will ride in the downtown Detroit parade.

Exhibitions of the state's best products in industry and agriculture are in place.

According to plans, this year there will be no gambling on the midway.

Fair heads say that even the kewpie doll and cheap cigar are out as gaming prizes.

However, they promise a record number of awards for legitimate contests.

Bachelor Shot By Lady Bandit

DETROIT (AP)—"Skeptical" police today investigated a Macomb County man's story of being shot in the head by a red-haired woman robber who invaded his home with two men.

Leo Cobb, 44, a bachelor, told police the three entered his cabin early today and robbed him of $170 after the woman had shot him.

Cobb said he walked a half mile to a brother's home with a .22 calibre bullet in his head to report the assault.

At Saratoga General Hospital, however, no bullet was found, nor, according to state police, did Cobb's head injury appear to have been caused by a shot.

Police Sgt. Alfred Maletta of Warren township said, "Frankly, we are skeptical."

Speedboat Overturns In Detroit River Run; Pilot Critically Hurt

DETROIT (AP)—Pilot Roy Duby is in critical condition from injuries suffered yesterday when Jack Schaffer's speedboat Such Crust III overturned on him in a high speed test run on the Detroit River.

Duby suffered a crushed chest and internal hemorrhages. He had the boat out for a run in preparation for the Silver Cup races Saturday.

It was the second accident that has sent a Such Crust plot to the hospital this season.

Bill Cantrell was burned severely when Such Crust IV exploded during the Gold Cup races in Seattle.

Suspended Detroit Policeman Accused Of Murdering Buddy

DETROIT (AP)—A suspended Detroit patrolman was held in jail without bond today on a charge of murdering his wartime Navy buddy from Grand Rapids.

Donald G. Courtade, 23, stood mute yesterday to a first degree murder charge in the slaying of Albert Doornbos.

Doornbos was shot Saturday night after he and his friend and Courtade and his wife had made a round of Detroit bars to celebrate their reunion. Police said Doornbos had interceded in an argument between Courtade and his wife. Courtade said he blacked out from drinking and did not remember the shooting.

Perkins Schools Open

PERKINS — The Perkins grade and high schools will open Tuesday morning, Sept. 2. The children are requested to bring their own lunches as the hot lunch program has been curtailed until further notice. High school teachers for the coming school term are Superintendent Leo Godin, Mrs. Allene Edick, Robert Richard, and Tom Gerovac. Grade school teachers are Mrs. Agatha Branstrom, Miss Alice Dunsmore, Robert Comstock, and Mrs. Joseph Gludorzi.

Baby Girl Trapped In Apartment Blast Alive In Wreckage

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—A 2-year old girl, hurled two floors and trapped for 30 minutes under debris of an explosion - shattered apartment, escaped yesterday with nothing worse than scratches.

Five other persons were injured, none seriously, when two mid-afternoon explosions ripped out the back wall of a four-story apartment house in the huge Abingdon apartment development.

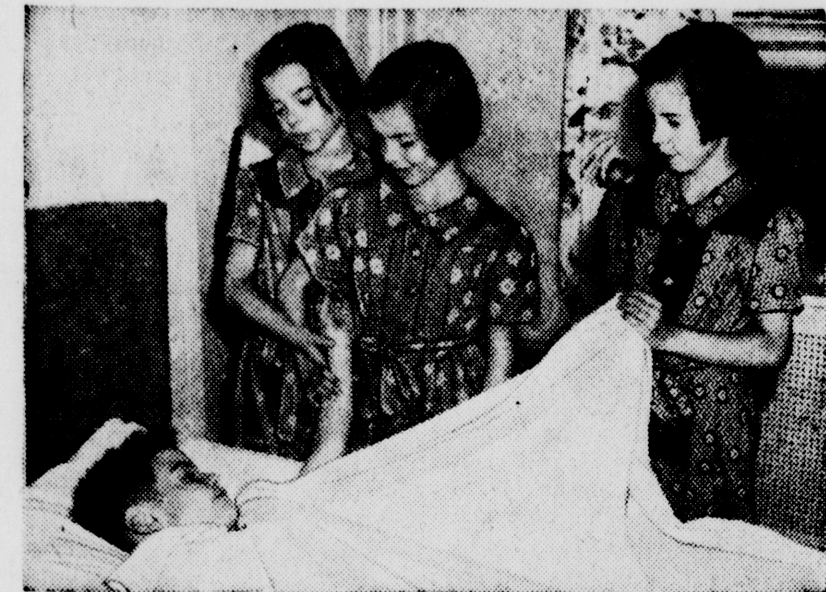

Cause of the blasts was not determined, although it was reported they originated in a basement where new oil burning equipment was being installed.

The girl was Joan Hawkins, found under shaky wreckage by Rescue Squad Capt. L. W. Devers.

School Is Quadruplicate For Cirminello Children

AP Newsfeatures

SCHOOL DAYS seem tough to the boy who'd rather play ball or go fishing. He has to get up early in the morning, wash behind the ears and get his mind on books. But when he has four to mother him, Oh, Boy! That's different. Such is the lot of Michael Cirminello, member of the famous quadruplets of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cirminello of Hollis, N. J. Look here:

QUADS RIGHT to left, in the morning getting Michael to wake up, are Eileen, Kathleen and Maureen Cirminello.

COLD WATER and a brisk towel pep Michael up for the first day in school. Eileen, left, Maureen and Kathleen, right.

ALL PRESENT and accounted for, Mrs. Cirminello leads here quadruplets up the steps of the school house on opening day.

Woods May Lift Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tighe E. Woods, the nation's new price boss, said today he will ask the President to lift price controls if he finds the public does not want them.

He told reporters he will make his determination of the public attitude by touring the country next month. He said he'll ask housewives and others what they think about controls.

But Woods emphasized that he, personally, believes the price curbs should stay in effect.

Woods takes over as director of the Office of Price Stabilization next week, succeeding Ellis Arnall.

The price control law is due to expire next April 30. It is a watered-down version of the original law and was pushed through congress in its closing days last June with many Republicans clamoring for a complete halt to the curbs.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A swirling swarm of locusts darkened the skies over New Delhi today as American spray planes went up to beat off the pest which threatens to ravage Indian crops. The main swarm covered some 60,000 square miles.

Surprising Labor Vote Predicted For Eisenhower

with that of the Democrats, Gray replied:

"We don't pay any attention to them. Political platforms are something to get in on but not to stand on."

Straus, chairman of the board of the American Smelting and Refining Co., said he was supporting Eisenhower "because his election will insure world peace and maintain our basic American freedoms."

Straus said Eisenhower led the free world to victory over the Nazis, and then brought nations together to resist communism.

"His election will be understood by Stalin as the determination of the American people to increase their strength, material and spiritual, so as to secure peace and freedom for ourselves and those who share our ideals," Straus said.

Still other visitors to Eisenhower said he told them he intended to make a full-scale speech on civil rights and the controversial issue of a fair employment practices commissioner.

This announcement came from Robert Dowling, president, and Lester Granger, secretary, of the National Urban League. They said the league, dedicated to equal opportunities for employment, had about 50,000 members in the United States.

They told him, Granger said, that he had been "quoted, or misquoted, or misunderstood" on the issue.

In other developments yesterday: Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, sometimes pointed to as the behind-the-scenes brain of the Eisenhower political forces, indicated he would take a back seat in the campaigning.

The 1944 and 1948 GOP presidential nominee told newsmen, after conferring with the general, that he would do all possible to swing New York into the Eisenhower column but would make no speeches outside the state.

Asked whether he thought Eisenhower was going too far into attempting to placate right-wing elements of the Republican party, Dewey said:

"The general is doing a magnificent job in unifying his supporters and members of the party."

Jet Pilot Who Broke Atlantic Speed Mark Can't Believe It Yet

LONDON (AP)—Wing Comdr. Roland Beamont, first man to pilot a plane across the Atlantic and back in a single day, says, "Everything went off so amazingly to timetable that I don't believe it."

The 32-year-old Royal Air Force ace and two other crewmen made the Atlantic roundtrip yesterday in a Canberra twin-jet bomber in seven hours, 58 minutes and 35.18 seconds flying time.

On the 2,072-mile return flight from Newfoundland to Ireland, the plane set a new west-to-east record, covering the distance in three hours, 25 minutes and 18.13 seconds.

EARLY EXTINGUISHER

First fire extinguisher might have been the "siphon used in conflagrations" described in the writings of an Egyptian ruler 150 years before Christ's birth.

He hinted that Eisenhower's name might be put on the Texas Democratic ticket with Stevenson's name on the national party ticket.

"Their right to vote for the candidate of their choice is a basic freedom of the people," he said.

Shivers first expressed opposition to the Stevenson candidacy last week when the Illinois governor declared himself against any "blanket cession" of tidelands to the states. Stevenson at the time said he favored some sort of compromise solution to break the present stalemate.

Eisenhower has said he would favor legislation by Congress giving the states control over their submerged oil riches.

Old Woman Squeezed Out Of Her Home By Moscow Couple

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda demanded justice today for an old woman pensioner who has been locked out of her own apartment by a squatter, a former lieutenant colonel, and his wife, who is a judge in a people's court.

The Communist party paper asked severe punishment for M. Tarashevich and his wife, Judge Romanova, for persecuting Mrs. Agrippina Orlova backwards and forwards through all the courts of Moscow the past five years.

Pravda said Tarashevich got a toe hold in Mrs. Orlova's room by marrying a nurse temporarily living with her. Then he sent the nurse away and appeared with a new wife, Romanova.

Forging papers, he officially registered as a resident of Mrs. Orlova's apartment and tried driving her out by making her life miserable. Finally he took the case to court and had her evicted.

She appealed, but he delayed court action for years by filing new forged papers every six months. This required a complete new review of the case each time.

Goodrich Ends 11-Day Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—The B. F. Goodrich Co., last holdout of the "Big Four" rubber companies, last night reached an agreement with the CIO United Rubber Workers which would end its 11-day strike.

Already in the fold were Firestone, Goodyear and United States Rubber. So were General Rubber and Seiberling.

More than 16,000 URW workers had walked off their jobs in nine Goodrich plants throughout the United States. They had already agreed on a 10-cent hourly wage increase, but could not agree, until late last night, on fringe benefits.

L. S. Buckmaster, president of the powerful URW, said that before the strike can be called off at least five of the nine striking locals representing a majority of the members involved must approve the settlement.

the prisons were "run from Lansing" to give preferred treatment to favorite prisoners.

The legislators said that prison appropriations have been steadily increased and that the prison camp program has been expanded to care for overcrowding. In addition, they said, money has been provided for new buildings at prisons at Ionia and Marquette.

Prison officials had only asked for additional guards at the camps, the statement said, and they were supplied.

The statement was issued by Senator G. Elwood Bonine, Edward Hutchinson and Don Vanderveer and Reps. Herb Clements, T. Jefferson Hoxie, R. C. Conlin and Kenneth O. Trucks.

Judge's Ruling Saves Bette Davis $66,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Bette Davis is $66,000 ahead today. The government said she owed that amount as income tax for 1942-43, but U. S. Judge Ben Harrison ruled for Miss Davis yesterday.

He said the issue was "whether a surviving spouse is liable for taxes of her deceased husband where the latter's liability arose by reason of his community ownership of one half the surviving spouse's earnings. My answer is no."

Miss Davis was married at the time to Arthur A. Farnsworth. He died in 1943.

July Strike Idleness Costly For Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported today that strike idleness in July cost 12½ million man-days work, largely because of the steel strike.

This was the greatest idleness reported due to strikes for any month since October, 1949, except the 14 million man-days of idleness in June, when the steel strike was in full swing.

The number of workers on strike during July was 850,000, compared with one million in June.

Taxes Discourage Donkey-Cart Owners Over In Somaliland

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The donkey cart owners of Somaliland are down in the dumps and in arms over new taxes and fines imposed by city officials.

They want U. N. headquarters to do something about it. They complain that there's many a day they don't earn a single brown cent, and how come these new taxes?

The complaint was handed over to the three-member U. N. Advisory Council for Somaliland by Ossoble Omar Ibrahim, Siad Omar, Araleh and Omar Isman Gebriel, "all residing in the village of Wardigley, Mogadishu, on behalf of the Somali and Arab cart-drawn-by-donkey owners."

The advisory council sent the complaint on to the U. N. for examination by the U. N. Trusteeship Council, which keeps tabs on the trustee administration of Italy in Somaliland.

To Big To Carry

The three complainants say they pay their yearly tax on time for the kind of goods carrying work "that we patiently await, day after day, and sometimes weeks and weeks, to earn our daily bread."

On top of that, they say, the village officers are always levying fines on them, chiefly on the grounds they can't produce their tax licenses.

"We would like to point out that, owing to the large size of the licenses, one cannot carry it with him," the complainants plead, "especially if one has to earn his living looking after a cart drawn by a donkey, because such a license will inevitably go astray or become dirty."

"Further, when one finds a load, he has to take up on his shoulders to the cart the goods, and this is not an easy task, permitting him to take care of the license. The shopkeepers have always ready their license when requested, and we know that. But it must be considered also the fact that shopkeepers do append their licenses on the walls of their shops, even though their business is a sedentary one."

Families Suffer

"It would be needless to say that today this trust territory lacks from commercial activity, since this fact is well known to you. How do we wish to draw your kind attention to fact that, once there is no commercial activity, for the owner of cart, is not an easy task to find transportation of goods. The only source of possible finding goods for transportation is the Somali maize and millet market."

"From there, one cannot rely on finding his daily bread, so far as the arrival of such goods in the market is not frequent."

"The same case applies also to buyers. And thus, one goes back to home in the evening without having earned a single brown cent, while his numerous family were expecting something to eat. This may continue for days after days."

Now, the complaint goes on, the city is imposing a daily tax in addition to the yearly license fees and the fines. The pleaders say that the police arrest and beat any group of four that gathers. At least two cart-drawn-by-donkey leaders have been arrested and their release was asked for.

Gimmicks Hamper Plane Production, Watchdogs Claim

of constant changes in models and additions of gadgets and gimmicks to aircraft designs. It said there was a need for design freezes and mass production.

"A tendency toward 'gimmick-erie' has loaded some of our planes with gadgets to a point where their effectiveness has been decreased," the report said.

Russia Keeps Ahead

No such delays face Soviet Russia, the report indicated, saying: "When the Russians stop making tractors and start making tanks they can ill afford to permit such end items to become obsolete."

Some comments in the body of the report appeared more withering than the conclusion and recommendations.

An example: "As will be demonstrated, the history of our air buildup is a saga of bad programming, neglected warnings, lack of co-ordination, abuse, misuse, and disuse of power, bad advice to the executive, and a general refusal on the part of our governmental agencies to pull together or work together in a dedicated way to strengthen our air arsenal."

Not Good Business

Even two years after the surprise Communist attack in Korea, the report said "we have far less than the first-line aircraft we need."

It added: "In our opinion, no business organization would countenance the excuses and self-serving justifications for either the unreality of the schedules established or the inability to meet even the reduced schedules."

"Despite attempted legerdemain with charts and graphs, nothing can obscure the fact that our planners have failed miserably. They have continually erred in setting production goals."

The report said the Air Force in June, 1951, planned monthly production of 1,050 aircraft, later stepped this up to 1,400 a month but cut it back in January of this year to 800.

Uncle Faces Charge Of Murdering Girl At Riverside, Calif.

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—John Lawrence, 37, was formally charged yesterday with the murder of Kathryn Wells, his 16-year-old niece, last Aug. 19.

The man originally was booked as Lawrence. The complaint yesterday gave the name as Lawrence, which is the way the family spells the name. The victim's name was listed as Wells, although she had informally adopted the name of her stepfather, Erwin Knodel. Her father is Wilfred Wells of Van Nuys, Calif.

Preliminary hearing for Lawrence was set for Sept. 16, but it may not be held if the grand jury issues an indictment. Officials said the matter will be presented to the grand jury today or early next week.

State psychiatrists examined Lawrence yesterday and reported "no sign of insanity."

United States Sets Up Embassy To Europe's Coal And Steel Pool

PARIS (AP)—The United States is establishing a permanent "embassy" to Western Europe's Schuman coal-steel pool.

Mutual Security Representative William H. Draper announced last night that the U. S. representative to the six-nation organization now being set up will be William M. Tomlinson, an economic expert. He will be known as "acting U. S. representative to the European Coal and Steel Community."

The new U. S. Embassy will be located in Luxembourg, present home of the coal-steel group's executive authority.

Kenyon gave this opinion, the first time he had indicated his thinking about the Democratic presidential candidate, at a press conference here yesterday.

He indicated that Stevenson's stand had enhanced Eisenhower's chances in Louisiana, where the oil-rich coastal areas are a vital political issue.

Stevenson said last week he was opposed to any "blanket cession" of off-shore oil reserves to individual states.

Kenyon, an anti-Truman Democrat, made it clear, however, that he had not made up his mind about the presidential contest.

Whitewash Put On Tax Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ellis N. Slack acting assistant attorney general in charge of the Tax Division, goes before a House committee today to answer charges that he approved a "whitewash" report of a tax scandal probe.

The charge grew out of a grand jury investigation of internal revenue collections in the St. Louis district in 1951.

Four members of the grand jury testified before a judiciary subcommittee earlier this week about Slack's connection with a partial report the group made.

Henry J. Butler, foreman of the jury, told the committee the report was approved by Slack after he heard it read to him over the telephone.

This was the report that District Judge George H. Moore denounced as "astounding" because it gave a clean bill of health to tax case handling in the area.

Judge Moore told the jury to continue its investigations with the result that from 40 to 50 indictments were returned. One named Collector James P. Finnegan, who subsequently was convicted of misconduct in office. He is appealing.

Slack has told reporters he did not "approve" the report because he didn't have the authority to do so.

Schools Open Here Tuesday

The Gladstone Public schools open for fall classes on Tuesday morning.

Students who have not registered may do so Tuesday morning, at the high school office at 8:30 or at the Central or Buckeye school at 9.

In regard to kindergarten pupils, children whose birthdays fall between Oct. 1, 1951 and March 31, 1952, are to report in the morning while those whose 5th birthday falls between April 1, 1952 and Sept. 31, 1952, will report in the afternoon. This pertains to the Central school kindergarten. At the Buckeye school all will report at 9.

The rental system on text books remains in effect. Kindergarten fees are 25 cents per semester. Pupils of the first through sixth grades pay 50 cents per semester while the fees for junior and senior high school students, is one dollar per semester.

Rental fees are to be paid the opening day of school. Sup't. Wallace Cameron advises.

City Briefs

Mutual Defense Pact With Philippines Put Into Effect By U. S.

MANILA (AP)—The United States-Philippines Mutual Defense Pact was put into effect today, but U. S. Ambassador Raymond Spruance made it clear the U. S. originally intended that Pacific security agreements follow approval of the Japanese Peace Treaty.

Acceptance of the peace pact by The Philippines was blocked in the Senate by the opposition Nacionalista party.

At ceremonies during which the two nations exchanged instruments of ratification, Spruance said the United States had wanted re-establishment of relations with Japan as a prerequisite to creation of a system of regional security in the Pacific.

"However, as the United States does not desire that there be any doubt as to the reality of its intention to regard aggression against The Philippines as a menace to its own peace and safety, I've been directed to proceed with this exchange of ratifications today," Spruance declared.

Mother Saves Four As Father Drowns In Lake Macatawa

HOLLAND (AP)—John Wehrmeyer, 33, father of four children, drowned Tuesday when a 12-foot fishing boat capsized on Lake Macatawa.

Wehrmeyer, his wife, Fenna, and their daughters, Mary Lou, 6, Patty, 5, Joann, 2½, and Judy, 8 months, were thrown into the lake. Mrs. Wehrmeyer managed to keep three of the children afloat until help came. The fourth, Joann, was later found under the boat wearing a life jacket.

Two boats set out from shore and rescued Mrs. Wehrmeyer and the children.

Rudders on boats navigating rivers of Portugal are longer than the vessels.

Fined For Giving Youth Intoxicant

Arraigned on a charge of furnishing intoxicants to a 16-year-old minor youth, Aloris Kessick Couillard, 24, 1512 Montana avenue, pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and court costs of $6.60.

The youth involved was arrested by City Police Sunday on a charge of speeding and some of the intoxicants furnished him were found in the auto.

Whether a traffic charge will be placed against the youth or the owner of the auto he was driving has not been determined.

Evidence Of Giants

BURNABY, Canada (AP)—Seemingly evidence that giants once inhabited British Columbia has been found by W. E. and E. M. Norman, a father and son geology team here. In a 30-year-search of their two-acre plot they found weapons only supermen could use—200 to 300-pound granite axes, huge belt axes, knife-handles and spears.

OUT OF SERVICE—Gene Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Smith, 1402 Wisconsin avenue, has received his discharge from the USAF after 4 years of service. He received his basic training at Sheppard Air Force base, Wichita Falls, Tex. At the completion of his basic training he was transferred to the Spokane Air Force base, Spokane, Wash. He was overseas in Sculthorpe, England for three months and at Yokota, Japan for 11½ months. At the time of his discharge he

Louise Burcar Tells Auxiliary Of Girls' State

An interesting and informative report on the Girls' State Citizenship project of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Michigan, held this summer on the campus of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, was presented this week before the Auxiliary to August Mattson Post by Louise Burcar, Gladstone high school student, who attended the state as the Auxiliary's representative.

Miss Burcar described the general activities of each day. Opening day saw greetings to the girls from the American Legion Auxiliary through Mrs. Edith Bryan, its president; a welcome to the campus from Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan; the "Purpose of Girls' State" detailed by Mrs. Charlotte Casteel, president of Wolverine Girls' State-American Legion Auxiliary, Inc.; and a talk on "Why Study Government at Girls' State" by a government instructor, Donald R. Norland, teaching fellow at the University of Michigan.

Nominating of candidates, campaigning and electing of officers for the various governmental units was described by Miss Burcar who said that to inform the student attending Girls' State talks were given on "Parties, Platforms and Policies" by Donald Norland and on "The Role of Councilman in Municipal Government" by Dr. Arthur Bromage, professor of political science at the University of Michigan.

Following elections and announcement of results, Dr. Otto G. Engelke of the Washtenaw County Health Department spoke on "City and County Relations" and John B. Martin Jr., auditor general of the State of Michigan, talked on "The Road Ahead."

Two afternoons were given over mainly to talks on "Careers for Women" with noted persons in their respective fields handling such subjects as Business and Secretarial, Home Economics, Retail Selling, Teaching, Journalism, Nursing, Physical Therapy, Medical Technology and Dental Hygiene.

Talks on Sculpturing, Junior Citizen and Music Appreciation were given one evening to help the girls "Live With the Arts."

Each girl attending had the opportunity to meet Governor Menomian G. Williams.

Miss Burcar was elected mayor of the City of Smith and a Marquette girl served as chief justice.

Autos Kill At Rate Of 104 People A Day

CHICAGO (AP)—Automobiles are killing people at the rate of about 104 per day on the nation's streets and highways.

Last year, the traffic death toll was 37,300, the National Safety Council reports. During the first six months this year, 16,820 fatalities were recorded, a 3 per cent increase over the half-year toll of 1951.

Traffic accidents account for about one-fortieth of deaths from all causes throughout the nation. The comparison in 1950 was: 35,000 traffic deaths; 1,456,000 deaths from all causes.

To manufacture an automobile permitting a driver to sit on the right instead of the left requires the alteration of 1500 parts.

U. P. High School Grid Season Opens Friday

Emeralds Home In One Of Four Kickoff Tilts

Upper Peninsula high schools kick off the 1952 football season Friday night with four games on tap and two more on Saturday complete the first weekend of the season.

Games are scheduled for Sundays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays for the next two months and the windup will be the Menominee-Marquette classic on Saturday, Nov. 1. Four major windup games are scheduled for the week-end of Oct. 25 with Iron Mountain and Kingsford, Gladstone and Escanaba, Houghton and Hancock and Calumet and Ironwood providing action in the finales.

U. P. Sports Writers Association released the Peninsula's master schedule today showing about 150 games involving Peninsula teams. Many of this year's games are with outstates with team from Minnesota, Wisconsin, lower Michigan and Canada on U. P. schedules.

Ironwood Red Devils with 14 lettermen returning including Pat Cvengros, junior halfback who sparked the team last year, is rated the team to beat of U. P. honors awarded to Newberry Indians last year. Iron Mountain, Stambaugh and Menominee are also highly regarded.

73 Out At Menominee
Lettermen reporting to Coach A. (Mert) Mortorelli at Ironwood include Frank Dravecky, Frank Gregory, Duncan Kennedy, Marvin Lakdov, Mike Lucas, Tom Robert, Harold Stockhaus, Dave Shaughency and Dave Stenstrom. The Red Devils lost such men as Brock Strom, Dave Young, Herm Misuraco and Jerry Korhonen by graduation.

Newberry will have a new coach, Joseph Kodba, who replaces Morley Fraser with the Indians. Fraser moved up to Lansing Eastern this year. A squad of 54 turned out at Newberry to Tom Taylor, who sparked the Indians last year, won't be among them. He's going to Michigan State.

Last year's other unbeaten teams, Menominee Maroons, Stambaugh Hilltoppers and Powers-Spalding Tigers, are all fielding teams with hopes, but all of them were hit heavy by graduation.

Coach Ken Radick of the Maroons, last year's U. P. coach of the year, had 73 reporting for varsity and junior varsity football this year, but he will be minus Johnny Moersch, the place-kicking artist who played end and doubled in the offensive backfield; Darrell Beland, All U. P. guard; Dick Bero, an outstanding end; and Dick Christopherson, rugged fullback. The Maroons still have Wayne Ewald, T-formation quarterback, Loren Wall, triple-threat halfback, the Bentley twins, Nick DeDamos, Bob Fraik, Bob Nielsen and some good prospects.

Aims For Championship
Coach Willard Anderson has "championship aspirations" at Stambaugh, but he is not predicting a championship team. Material is running good at Stambaugh, but there are many factors to consider. Capt. Lowell Lepisto, John Erickson, Don Sartorelli and Don Halvorsen and eight others were lost by graduation. Ward Bond, who suffered a leg fracture in pre-season practice a year ago, is back this year bidding for a tackle berth. He goes 190 pounds.

Some 60 eager candidates reported to Coach Harry Monson at Iron River including nine regulars. Coach Monson seeks replacements for Mickey McMahon, who is going to Minnesota, and Keith Lundin, ticketed for Wisconsin, and may find them in Bumpy Fregotto, a fullback, and Ronald Pearson, likely looking end.

Escanaba Eskymos will open with a new coach, Joe Milokna, who moved over from Kingsford replacing Jim Rouman, and he is reported stirring up trouble for U. P. opponents. A squad of 59 turned out at Escanaba including seven lettermen but the loss of

Softball Game To Highlight Picnic

A post-season exhibition softball game between White Birch and Phil & E's of the American League will highlight Sunday's Knights of Columbus picnic at Pioneer Trail Park.

The game gets under way at 2 p. m., K. C. members and their families will attend and the public is invited. There will be no admission charge.

Martha Johnson Wins Handicap Golf Play

In Women's play yesterday at Escanaba Golf Club, Mrs. Martha Johnson fired a 39 with full handicap of 14 to win top honors.

Mrs. Bernice Stuart and Mrs. Harriet Bourke came in with 40s on 54-14 scores before Mrs. Johnson dropped her final put on the 9th hole to cop low honors.

Heavy Duty For Braves As Grid Inaugural Nears

GLADSTONE—Two-a-day practice sessions are still the order of the week as Coach Don Pfothauer pushes his Gladstone High School Braves for their opening gridiron clash of the season against the St. Joseph Parochials here on Saturday, Sept. 6.

Coach Pfothauer has a group of 12 lettermen around whom to build his eleven and while he isn't using any crying towels he does point out that there is still plenty of work to be done before Sept. 6 rolls around.

A veteran team composed of Ends Harold Goodyer and Martin Becker, Tackles Tom Peterson and Duane Peterson, Guards Capt. Jack Holm and Ed Bunno, Center Dick Lamberg, Quarterback Tom Moreau, Right Halfback Norm Beauchamp, Left Halfback Lowell LaPlant and Fullback Joe Corbiel has been scrimmaging against other eleven composed of Ends Jack Beach and Larry Feldt, Tackles Bob Sandstrom and Lee Larson, Guards Ed Farrell and Don Brewer, Center Frank Barak, Quarterback Robert Sanford, Right Half Bob Burton, Left Half Francis Rabito and Fullback Dick Druding.

Others seeing action are Tom Brewer, a guard; Jim Bratonia, a halfback and Francis Peterson a quarterback.

Coach Pfothauer was all smiles when he commented on the spirit of the squad this year in practice session. While he indicated that the team lineup was beginning to take shape, he pointed out that no position is secure and that it is going to the candidate who earns it.

Friets And Hansen In Highland Club Finals

Martha Friets and Gladys Hansen, both seeking their first club championship, worked their way by semifinal matches in the annual Highland Golf Club women's title tournament yesterday.

The two are slated to tangle this afternoon for the crown. Championship matches in all flights will be concluded today and the annual awards dinner will be held this evening at the clubhouse.

The championship pair defeated the mother and daughter duo, Mrs. Helen Johnson and Miss Carolyn Johnson, yesterday. Mrs. Friets beat Miss Johnson and Mrs. Hansen eliminated Mrs. Johnson. The latter is a former Highland champion.

Kirby Beats Wall, Loses Next Match

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Youth takes over for the departed champions today as eight players hook up in the quarter-finals of the Women's National Amateur golf championship.

Dorothy Kirby, the 1951 winner, left the ranks, beaten, 4 and 3, by long-hitting Edean Anderson, the current Canadian champion whose home is in Helena, Mont.

Dorothy's departure left the championship wide open, and the field dominated by young golfers.

The age ladder listed 17-year-old Barbara Snook of Portland; three 19-year-olds, Pat Garner of Midland, Tex., Barbara Romack, Sacramento, and Pat Lesser of Seattle; Shirley McFedders, Long Beach, Calif., 21; Miss Anderson, 22; and two more mature players, Claire Doran, Cleveland, and Mrs. Jacqueline Pung, golfing mother from Hawaii.

Miss Kirby had a rough time beating Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., in 19 holes, and had an even rougher time trying to win from Miss Anderson.

He is trying to decide whether to go to Japan on a track and field junket at the invitation of Dan Ferris, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, or pass up the trip and show up at Stanford University next Monday for the opening football practice.

The 21-year-old Mathias was one of the big reasons Stanford won its way into the Rose Bowl last season. His first season was a promising one and he is the Indian's No. 1 fullback. If he goes to Japan he will miss the first three games on the Stanford schedule—Santa Clara, Sept. 20, Washington State Sept. 27 and Michigan Oct. 4.

Stanford sources said they were convinced that Mathias would make the trip to the Orient, but he said he would take two days to make up his mind and would confer with his parents.

Dells, Westby's Win City Softball Crowns

The Escanaba Dells closed out the city softball season yesterday by copping the annual city championship in the American League, defeating Paper Mill in the finals 12-1.

In the National League title game, Westby's survived an All-Press rally to win 12-10.

For the Dells it was the climax to an all-victorious tournament and Upper Peninsula championships. Last night was the end of the team's U. P. competition.

Tomorrow the Dells leaves for Ludington and the state Class A tournament. First action in the double elimination tourney comes tomorrow night at 8 against Ludington Ferris.

Ken Dufresne fired two-hit ball at Paper Mill last night to notch the victory while his mates were pounding out 11 hits off Tom Elegerre. Paul Larson and Gene Verhamme.

Both Paper Mill hits came in the sixth inning when Dave Larson singled and Rod Lindstrom doubled. Leadoff man Micky Kuchenberg led the Dells at the plate with four hits in four trips. Elegerre was shelled in the fourth in which the Dells scored eight runs on six hits.

Jim Fitzpatrick pitched Westby's to the win over All-Press with Jo-Jo Johnston catching. All-Press came from behind late in the game to knot the score at 10-10 but couldn't hold Westby's after that.

Tiger Fans Continue To Back Cellar Club

DETROIT (AP)—No fair weather friends, these Detroit Tiger fans. More than 40,000 of 'em are expected to turn out tonight to welcome home a team that can only boast a firm hold on the American League cellar.

It could be that a lot of them are turning out for the two-night doubleheader just to see the Cleveland Indians who are in hot pursuit of the New York Yankees. But the Indians always have been a big drawing card here, even in lush Tiger times.

In the first game starting at 6 p. m. EST, Ted Gray (11-13) will be on the mound for the Tigers against Cleveland's Early Wynn (16-11). In the second game Detroit's Hal Newhouser, (6-8) will be opposed by Steve Gromek (6-6).

Dismal Record
The Tigers closed their eastern road trip in Boston yesterday by absorbing a 5-0 beating from the Red Sox. It gave the Red Sox their 10th victory over the Tigers in 11 games at Fenway Park.

The Tigers have won only two of eight games played at Briggs Stadium against Boston. That adds up to 16 Boston victories over Detroit in 19 games.

The Sox scored all their runs in the third inning yesterday as they jumped on Dave Madison, the righthander acquired by the Tigers in the recent big deal with the St. Louis Browns. It was Madison's first start as a Tiger pitcher.

two innings, holding the Sox to one hit.

Bad Third
But in the third, Madison walked the leadoff batter, Johnny Lipon, a former Tiger. Pitcher Mel Parnell scored Lipon with a triple. Then Faye Thorneberry drew a walk. A single by Billy Goodman brought Parnell home in a hurry.

A double by Clyde Vollmer scored Thorneberry and Dick Gernert capped the rally with a double to score Goodman and Vollmer.

After Madison walked former Tiger Hoot Evers, lefthander Billy Hoefft came in and put out the fire. Hoefft allowed the Sox only three singles and struck out five batters in the five innings he worked. Hoefft was removed for a pinchhitter in the eighth and Hal White finished the game, allowing one hit in one inning.

Spartans Cream Off Best Of Preppers

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan State will corral the pick of the state's 1951 high school football stars this fall.

MSC, toughening up for its first season in the Big Ten starting in 1953, will likely draw eight of the 22 players named to the Associated Press Class A All-State team last fall.

And next in line will be MSC's bitterest rival, the University of Michigan, with only two.

An Associated Press survey of the plans of the just-graduated players indicates that—despite demeritis rumors from the MSC campus—Michigan State will certainly retain its title as the top procurer of talent in this state.

Spartan-Landed
All of the following are expected to land at Michigan State under Coach Biggie Munn:

End Jerry Volek of Owosso, tackle Marv Fraker of Ann Arbor; tackle Carl Diener of Saginaw Arthur Hill; tackle Dick Asel of Bay City Central; guard Dick Horen of Bay City Handy.

Center Gene Michael of Benton Harbor; Back Earl Morrall of Muskegon, biggest vote-getter in all-state balloting; and back Bill Smiley of Bay City Central.

Michigan has already acquired its two stars, Center Ray Wynn of Port Huron and Back Tony Branoff of Flint Central enrolled there after graduating in mid-year.

Here are the likely choices of others:

Muskegon's end Don Rademaker, to Notre Dame; Port Huron's end Tom Fead, to Dartmouth; Owosso's end Bruce Fry, to Utah State.

Grand Rapids Catholic Central's tackle Jerry Schoen to Notre Dame and back Ted Olewinski to Marquette; Midland's guard Wayne Allswede to Central Michigan.

Ray Eggleston, East Jackson High athletic star, also has announced he will enter Michigan State in September. Eggleston won four class C titles in the state track meet last spring. He also starred in football, basketball and baseball.

Diener, 240-pound tackle and an A-B student, is perhaps the center of the biggest rush from college coaches. Presently he believes he'll enroll at Michigan State, but Purdue, Michigan and many Southern colleges are trying to change his mind.

BEARS PRACTICE
The Escanaba Bears will practice at 6:45 this evening at the city diamond. The Tri County leaders travel to Stephenson Sunday and to Hermansville Labor Day to wind up league play.

Five former Michigan State athletes are currently on the Spartan staff as assistants in various sports.

Yanks Go Two Ahead

By RALPH RODEN
AP Sports Writer

It would not be at all surprising to find the faces of General Managers Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox and Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians a bit red today.

The discomfiture of the general managers can be laid at the feet of Ray Scarborough, a 35-year-old pitcher from Mt. Olive, N. C., who is currently employed as a pitcher for the American League's pace-setting New York Yankees.

Fans in Boston probably are demanding to know why Cronin sold Scarborough to the Yankees. Those in Cleveland must be wondering why Greenberg passed up an opportunity to obtain the tall right-hander.

Two Game Lead

Scarborough gained credit yesterday for the Yankees' 12-7 victory over St. Louis. The triumph enabled the Yankees to stretch their lead to two games over the second-place Indians in the pressure-packed race.

The Indians dropped back by bowing, 6-5, to Philadelphia. Boston's third-place Red Sox remained 3½ games astern as Mel Parnell shut out Detroit, 5-0. In the remaining American League game, the Chicago White Sox defeated the Senators, 4-1, under the lights at Washington.

Brooklyn stubbed its toe in its march to the National League pennant by dropping a 10-5 decision to the Chicago Cubs while the runner-up New York Giants sneaked by Pittsburgh, 5-4, to reduce the Dodgers advantage to 9½ games. In night games, Philadelphia smothered St. Louis, 7-2, and Boston downed Cincinnati, 12-7, in 10 innings.

Bought For Walver

Scarborough was procured by the Yankees from Boston on Aug. 22 for the $10,000 waiver price. All other clubs in the American League had a chance to obtain Scarborough before the Yankees but none nibbled.

Yesterday he entered the game in the third inning in relief of Allie Reynolds, who was tagged for five unearned runs in the second inning. Scarborough limited the Browns to three hits in four innings and was awarded the victory when the Yankees came up with four runs in the sixth to take a 10-6 lead.

The A's spotted the Indians a 4-0 lead in the first inning and then roared back with one in the fourth on Gus Zernial's 25th homer and five more in the fifth to beat Mike Garcia. Parnell blanked the Tigers on six hits as the Red Sox ran their winning streak to five games. The Red Sox combed Dave Madison for all five of their runs in the third inning on two walks, a single by Billy Goodman, triple by Parnell and doubles by Clyde Vollmer and Dick Gernert.

Connolly Wins 2nd

A quartet of Chicago pitchers checked the Senators on four singles with Harry Dorish, who worked 6 2-3 innings, emerging with his sixth victory.

Former Dodgers Tommy Brown, Bob Addis and Dee Fondy were the big wheels in Chicago's triumph over Brooklyn. The trio accounted for nine of the Cubs' 15 hits with Brown leading the way with four singles. Bob Rush, with help in the ninth from Dutch Leonard, a Dodger from 1933 to 1936, gained credit for his 13th victory.

Bill Connolly, making his first Giant start, picked up his second victory in beating Pittsburgh. Connolly allowed only four hits but needed help in the eighth from Al Corwin and Larry Jansen when the Pirates scored twice on three walks and an error.

Lefty Curt Simmons breezed to his 11th victory for the Phils in the night game at St. Louis. The Phils rapped Wilmer (Vinegar) Bend Mizell and Joe Presko for a 7-0 lead in three innings.

The Braves belted out 18 hits in subduing the Reds. Sibby Sisti and Sid Gordon led the drive with four blows apiece.

Ohio State Swimmer Seeking Big Sweep

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Mike Peppe, diminutive mastermind of Ohio State's swimming forces, took a South American junket with three Hawaiians in 1939 and the enduring friendships he established with Keo Nakama, Halo Hirose and Jimmy Tanaka still are paying big dividends.

From these friendships has stemmed the constant flow of aquatic talent from the islands to Ohio State, and today the latest and best of these island mermen, Ford Konno, stood on the threshold of a clean sweep of all three free-style distance events at the

Hairston TKO'd By Bobo Olson

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl (Bobo) Olson had his sixth straight victory today and a burning desire to fight Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson again.

The clever, 24-year-old Hawaiian chalked up No. 6 with a six-round technical knockout over sturdy Gene (Silent) Hairston of New York in Madison Square Garden last night. It was a very impressive performance.

Opens Cut

Olson staggered the 23-year-old Negro deaf-mute with a right to the temple in the third round and opened a deep cut over his right eye in the fourth round. That was the beginning of the end. Bobo popped one left after another at the wound, blazed over thumping rights to the head, and then barged his game rival's body to keep him guessing.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello ordered the bout halted after the sixth as the blood-smeared Hairston wobbled to his corner.

Wants Robinson

"We'd like to get Robinson again," said Manager Sid Flaherty as Olson nodded in assent. "Robinson won a close one the last time. The next time it won't be close. Bobo will win going away."

"If we can't get the champion, we'd like Jake LaMotta or anyone the International Boxing Club can get for us."

It was Olson's 48th victory in 53 fights and his 24th knockout. He hasn't lost since Robinson narrowly outpointed him in their 15-round title fight in San Francisco March 13.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting: Yogi Berra, Yankees—drove in three runs on his 26th and 27th homers of the season to lead New York to 12-7 victory over St. Louis.
Pitching: Mel Parnell, Red Sox—pitched Boston to a 5-0, six-hit victory over Detroit to extend Boston's winning streak to five games.

National AAU Outdoor Championships.

Needs One More

The 19-year-old Ohio State sophomore, Olympic titlist in the 1,500 meters, added the quarter-mile crown last night to the 1952 outdoor mile crown he had won on Tuesday.

Tonight, if he clears the half-mile hurdle, he'll have negotiated what is known in aquatic circles as the big sweep.

Konno's second triumph was more or less eclipsed, however, by the thrilling record performances of Bowen Stassforth, University of Iowa senior from Los Angeles and Olympic runner-up, who won the 220-yard breast stroke in a performance that shattered both the American 220-yard and 200-meter long course marks.

Stassforth, who has no further varsity eligibility remaining, and who at 27 is a comparative veteran, probably was making his final major competitive effort.

Shatters Records

Stassforth's time, 2:34.7, shattered the old American mark of 2:41 for the 220 yards, set by Bob Brainer of Princeton two years ago and the 200-meter record of 2:35.8 held by John Davies of Australia.

Other winners were Ohio State's Yoshi Oyakawa, the Olympic champion in the 110-yard backstroke, and the New Haven Swim Club's 880-yard relay of John Marshall, Martin Smith, Jimmy McLane and Wayne Moore in meet record time of 8:58.8.

Ohio State, however, had built up a commanding lead of 70 points to Yale's 43, and seemed destined to overthrow the Elis as team champion at the completion of tonight's last three events.

List Details Of School Opening

In preparation for the reopening of Manistique public schools on Wednesday morning, Sept. 3, a general teachers meeting has been called for 9 a. m. Tuesday, Sept. 2, in the east room of the high school building, it is announced by A. F. Hall, superintendent.

Class schedules for the various grades have been announced as follows by the superintendent:

Junior and senior high school—8:15 to 11:15 a. m.; 1 to 4 p. m. Grades 3, 4, 5 and 6—8:45 to 11:30 a. m.; 1 to 4 p. m. Grade 2—8:45 to 11:30; 1 to 3:30 p. m. Grade 1—8:45 to 11:10 a. m.; 1 to 3:10 p. m. Kindergarten (half days only)—8:45 to 11:10 a. m. at Lakeside, Riverside and Lincoln; 1 to 3:10 p. m. at Central, Lincoln and Lakeside.

Children must have reached the age of five years on or before Sept. 3 to be eligible for regular kindergarten membership. Hall said. Parents are requested to bring birth certificates of children they wish to enroll.

Text books are provided free but junior and senior high school students must maintain deposits of $1 and $2, respectively, to pay for loss of books or fines assessed for negligence in the care of books.

C-C Calls On Hiawatha Club

Members of the Top O'Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon and evening learned a few facts about the Hiawatha Sportsmen's Club, one of the Upper Peninsula's largest private clubs, located along Lake Michigan north of Nautawaway.

Several members of the chamber participated in the goodwill pilgrimage to the sportsmen's club and were guests at a picnic supper at the club's nine-hole golf course and later attended a program in the club dining hall. Approximately 150 persons attended the golf course outing.

The showing of colored slides and group singing highlighted entertainment at the program. Club members extended a cordial welcome to the Manistique group, and Fred D. Heltman, chamber secretary, expressed the chamber's appreciation for the club's hospitality.

The Hiawatha club owns an area of 39,000 acres and has a membership roster of 1,200 of whom 800 regularly enjoy the club's facilities. Many members have erected modern summer homes along Lake Michigan near Nautawaway.

An annual goodwill tour to some neighboring community is a regular feature of the chamber's activities program.

Schedule X-Ray Clinic Sept. 9-12

A free chest x-ray clinic conducted by the Michigan Department of Health in cooperation with the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department will be held in Manistique Sept. 9 to 12, inclusive, it is announced.

A mobile x-ray unit will be stationed at the Court House and will be open for free chest x-rays during the following hours:

Sept. 9, 1 to 5 p. m.; Sept. 10, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Sept. 11, 1 to 3:30 p. m.; Sept. 12, 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

The mobile unit also will be stationed at Seney Sept. 8 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Persons over 15 years of age are invited to have chest x-rays taken.

Food and drink handlers, in particular, are urged to take advantage of this free health service.

The taking of an x-ray will require less than a minute's time, and it is not necessary to remove any clothing.

Dog Drive Continues—Several more violators of the city dog ordinance recently paid fines and costs in Manistique justice court. The campaign to keep dogs either confined to their owners' premises or held on leash while abroad was ordered last spring by the City Council and is being carried out by the city police department.

Over-Height Load—Albert Fave, of Alpena, yesterday paid a fine of $10 and costs of $4 to local justice court by mail on an over-height load charge. His truck, driven by John H. LaFleur, also of Alpena, was ticketed on US-2 near Manistique by Michigan State Highway Department weighmasters. The load was 13 inches over legal height.

High Taxes Welcomed For Retiring Benefit

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—When a man deliberately doesn't report business expenses so that his income tax will be bigger—that's unusual, and it represents an unusual "heads" for the Social Security Service.

Sam F. Ward Jr., field manager for the Galveston social security branch, said, "There are some self-employed persons who may not have a net income of $600 after all allowable deductions are taken. They may be nearing or past the 65-year retirement age, and national SS authorities believe that in some instances they elected not to take the deductions so as to be eligible for the annual benefits when they retired."

invited to have chest x-rays taken. Food and drink handlers, in particular, are urged to take advantage of this free health service.

The taking of an x-ray will require less than a minute's time, and it is not necessary to remove any clothing.

Inland Stock Deal Offered

Inland Steel Company announced yesterday it is offering company stock to an estimated 20,000 employees on payroll savings. Under an employee ownership plan, eligible employees will be offered options on stock equal in value to 25 per cent of their 1951 earnings from the company at $42.25 a share. That price is 95 per cent of the closing price for the stock on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday. The options may be exercised at any time after one year and within three years.

Employees are being given non-transferable option certificates by September 24 they are to indicate whether or not they wish to accept the option. Those who do, may authorize payroll deductions sufficient to pay for their stock by August 25, 1955. At any time during the three-year period they may withdraw from the plan and receive their savings in cash, with interest.

To be eligible employees must have been with the company for two years, and they must remain in its employ a year after receiving the option to be able to exercise it.

All personnel of the company and its subsidiaries, including officers, participate on an equal basis except that employees of the company's coal mines who are members of the United Mine Workers Union, were excluded from the plan on the request of the union.

Inland subsidiaries included in the plan are Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, Inland Steel Container Company, Inland Steel Products Company, Inland Lime and Stone Company, and Indiana Harbor Homes Company.

Stockholders of the company authorized the employee stock options at a special meeting last September and approved a price to employees of 85 per cent of the market. Government agencies delayed clearance until February and required a change in the option price to 95 per cent of market. Other delays were imposed by the company's bond financing in March, government seizure of its steel mills, and the series of strikes in its mills and ore mines which were only settled July 26. A requirement that option holders remain in the company's employ for one year before exercising their options was made necessary by recent court decisions. This change will be submitted to stockholders.

Airing Of St. Louis Tax Scandals Seen As Help To Nation

By HARRY P. SNYDER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Keating (R-NY) said Tuesday he believes a House committee's airing of a 1951 St. Louis grand jury probe of income tax scandals will prove highly beneficial to the nation.

"Because of this committee," Keating told newsmen, "I don't think there will be ever again such an abuse of the public process as went on out there."

Tried To Whitewash

He referred to testimony heard yesterday by a judiciary subcommittee to the effect that some Justice Department officials tried to steer the grand jury to a "white-wash" report.

The group heard from four members of the grand jury—Henry J. Butler, foreman; Clinton L. Whittemore, deputy foreman; Col. P. P. Lovely and Mrs. Mary O. Messenger—and Marvin Hopper, who was an assistant U. S. attorney at the time.

Schooled At Start

The former jurymen testified that at the start they were "schooled" in the way income tax cases were handled by revenue officials. They were given reasons why the government often closed cases because tax-payers had made voluntary disclosures of delinquencies or were aged or suffering physical disorders.

They said they also were counseled that once a tax case was closed, a grand jury couldn't dig into it. And after they looked over lists of tax cases that had been shelved, they accepted a suggestion by the district attorney, the late Drake Watson, to make a partial report.

Legion Demands Acheson Ouster

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Legion convention adopted a resolution demanding the dismissal of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and "those in his department found wanting in the proper activation of their duty to their country."

Adopted overwhelmingly by a voice vote, the resolution declared that the state department requires "new and stalwart leaders" and asserted "our patience is exhausted. We demand immediate attention to this all important subject. We accept nothing less."

Last year in Miami the Legion adopted a resolution regarding the state department. It called for the "immediate removal of the present corps of leaders whose every action has reflected incompetency, indecision and defeatism."

It made a similar demand at its 1950 convention in Los Angeles.

Lunches Go Up

DETROIT (AP)—School lunches will go up a nickel each and milk a cent a glass when schools reopen here next Wednesday. Vegetable or meat plates will be 30 cents in elementary schools and 40 cents in intermediate and high schools.

Cop Leaves Force To Become Preacher

FT. WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Fellow officers of Alfred Haney, Jr., a 27-year-old motorcycle officer, presented him with a Bible recently at police headquarters as he resigned from the force.

He has just become the Rev. Haney, pastor of Lawn Terrace Baptist church in Mineral Wells. He has been a member of the police force for the last nine months while serving as part-time pastor of another church. He is married and has a 4-month-old daughter.
